Youngsters Do Well in P.E. Tests

Boys and girls of fifth grade age and above at Hillview School are, on the average, well above norms in physical fitness. Even so, they're going to be even stronger if a current recreation program is continued.

The evaluation of strength was made by Hillview physical education instructor Don Kerr, who explains that "national norms" recently have been published by a professional magazine.

Tests given were designed to find out about comparative development of such things as coordination, strength of arms, strength of legs, endurance, strength of abdominal muscles, and agility, Kerr says.

SEE IMPROVEMENT

Compiled since the opening of school, the tests will be repeated in the spring, to show if there's been any improvement.

Meanwhile, youngsters at Menlo Park schools will continue to work in physical education classes in which games to be played will be selected with a view to correcting any weaknesses which have been identified.

Members of five classes took seven tests each and in the case of only one test for one class was the average less than teh 50th percentile, Kerr says.

That means, that out of each 100 children tested in order to produce the national norm, Menlo Park youngsters did better than half of them in all cases but one.

Comparatively speaking, the girls fared better than the boys, Kerr notes.

Seventh and eighth grade girls, for instance, reached the 100th percentile in pull-ups—indicating, if the national norms are correct, that Hillview school's seventh and eighth grade girls have stronger arms than just about any girls of comparable age anywhere in the country.

Fifth grade boys at Hillview can do more pull-ups than 74 per cent of the nation's youngsters; more sit-ups than 64 per cent; are faster at a "shuttle run" (which includes a couple of stops to pick up blocks) than 78 per cent.

They can leap farther in a standing broad jump than 92 per cent of the youngsters of their age group in the country; run a 50-yard dash faster than 74 per cent of the youngsters, throw a softball farther than 54 per cent of their fellows and, somehow, can do a 600-yard run-walk event faster than only 46 out of 100 of the nation's youngsters.

HIGH AVERAGE

They average better than 68 per cent of the nation's youngsters, over-all.

Sixth grade boys, Kerr says the test shows, average at the 74th percentile, as do the eighth grade boys.

The girls are the strong ones, averaging at the 84th percentile in the seventh grade and 83rd precentile in the eighth grade.

To what does Kerr attribute this high level of physical development?

"They're all healthy kids to start with and they have free time for exercise," he says.

Besides the free time, they've got 30 minutes of physical education a day at the school.

The daily sessions usually open with youngsters running a lap around the field or doing calisthenics, after which they play games.

"These aren't just haphazardly selected games, either," Kerr says. If a class or age group shows a weakness in our tests, we try to correct it by exercising the proper muscles in the games we play for the next several weeks."

Kerr, who is proud of the accomplishments of this young charges, figures the program could be augmented if there was a possibility youngsters could dress in gym clothes for classes.

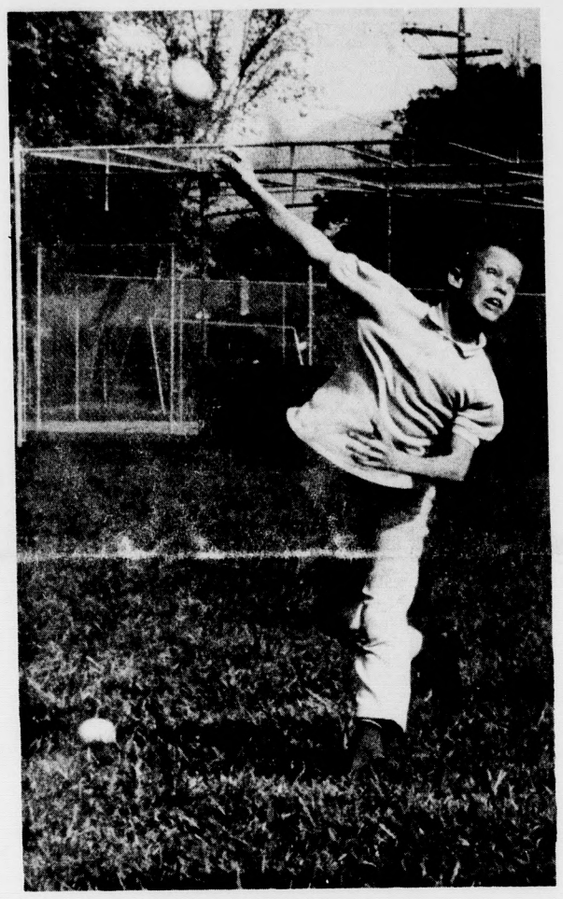

As things now stand, most of the games the youngsters play are of the type that can be enjoyed in normal school clothes, though the coach sometimes suggests to girls that they'd enjoy a game more if they wore shorts.

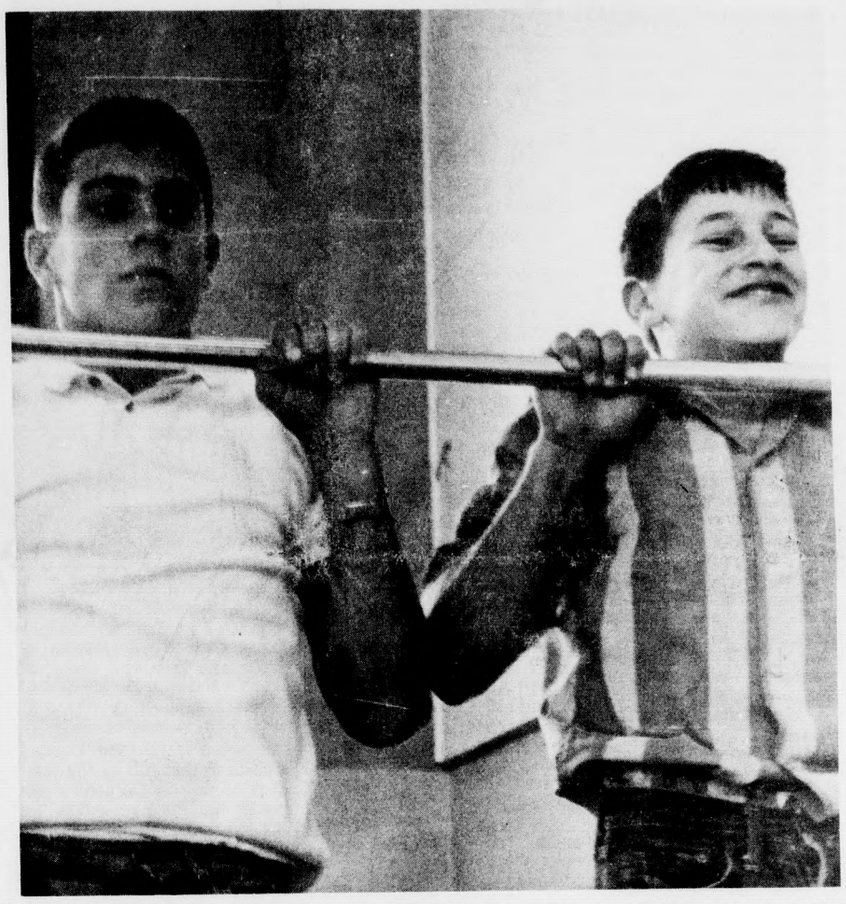

SIT-UPS . . .
. . . done with one youngster holding the feet of the one being tested, provide an opportunity to test strength of abdominal muscles and to develop them if a weakness is shown. Fifth grade boys in Hillview school at Menlo Park can do more of these than 64 per cent of the youngsters in the United States; eighth grade boys do better than 90 per cent of their fellows according to a national test.

Atherton Hears Proposal on Street Lights

The street lights going out occasionally in the Lindenwood tract are becoming a regular feature of the rainy season. The Atherton Town Council heard about the latest power failure at its meeting Monday night from a delegation of the Lindenwood Homes Association.

The group presented its problem, caused by the ancient underground power cables leaking and short-circuiting in the wet ground when the insulation has rotted away. They asked if the council would pay the cost of replacement of part of it. The council took the matter up for study.

The council Monday night also sent back to the planning commission the plans for a new service road on the Menlo School and College campus running from Valparaiso Avenue to the corporation yard along the southwesterly property line.

The contention was that the planners had recommended a chain across the connecting roiads to prevent cross-traffic which the school objected to. It's due for further consideration.

The council also authorized purchase of four new police cars, with four of the present cars to be traded in.

The request of Mrs. Dan Walcott of 30 Reservoir Road for a variance permitting construction of a swimming pool in the front and side yard area was carried over because of the town's policy of not allowing pools within 60 feet of the front property line. Amended plans may be brought in later.

New Shopping Center Slated for Menlo

Landowners Form 'Pool'

Plans for a shopping center, which will include a 40,000-square-foot market building and cost an estimated $700,000, were approved by the Menlo Park City Council Tuesday night.

The development covers most of the block bounded by El Camino Real, Merrill Street and Santa Cruz and Oak Grove avenues. Razing of existing buildings is to begin immediately, according to Tom Fitch, local Realtor who worked for the development.

Several parcels of property were assembled to make the big new development possible on land which was historically the commercial heart of the city.

The council's official action was to approve a conditional use permit which will guide the property development.

"I think it's a good development," Mayor William R. Lawson commented. "I'd like to see it go in."

Councilman James Calloway said the development "would be good for Menlo Park," adding that projects of this kind were overdue here.

The plans call for a total of 169 offstreet parking places — including the land owned by Southern Pacific between Merrill and the railroad tracks. It's now used for all-day parking by commuters.

The developers' plan to dedicate to the city all of the parking area that they directly control adjacent to Merrill Street and the land that they lease from the Southern Pacific would also be placed under city control.

PARKING

It was not immediately decided if the city will institute a time limit in this area where commuters traditionally park. However, City Manager John R. Johnson said that a departure from the traditional "no time limit" policy might be in order there.

Johnson added that his impression of Southern Pacific policy is that all-day free parking for the commuter is on its way out.

"The trend is toward development of this potential commercial and industrial land which has been traditionally available to the commuter," Johnson said.

Councilmen said that the lot which will be leased to the developers is usually about half full of all-day parkers.

Developers have assured the council that they would maintain the landscaping in and about the parking lot.

Fitch said earlier Tuesday that space will be available for several shops, a restaurant and a drug store, in addition to the market.

Architect's drawings of the plot plan showed space for miscellaneous shops, a restaurant, and a drug store in addition to the market. There will be entrances on all four streets.

Fitcr said the actual development work would be done by Topaz Builders of San Jose.

MAIN PURPOSE

He said that the building is being constructed primarily for the market, which will be operated by the Rakestraw market chain.

However, he added, the market will be the first of its kind in this area, featuring many new innovations. Only one market of its type is in existence at the present time and it is in the Los Angeles area.

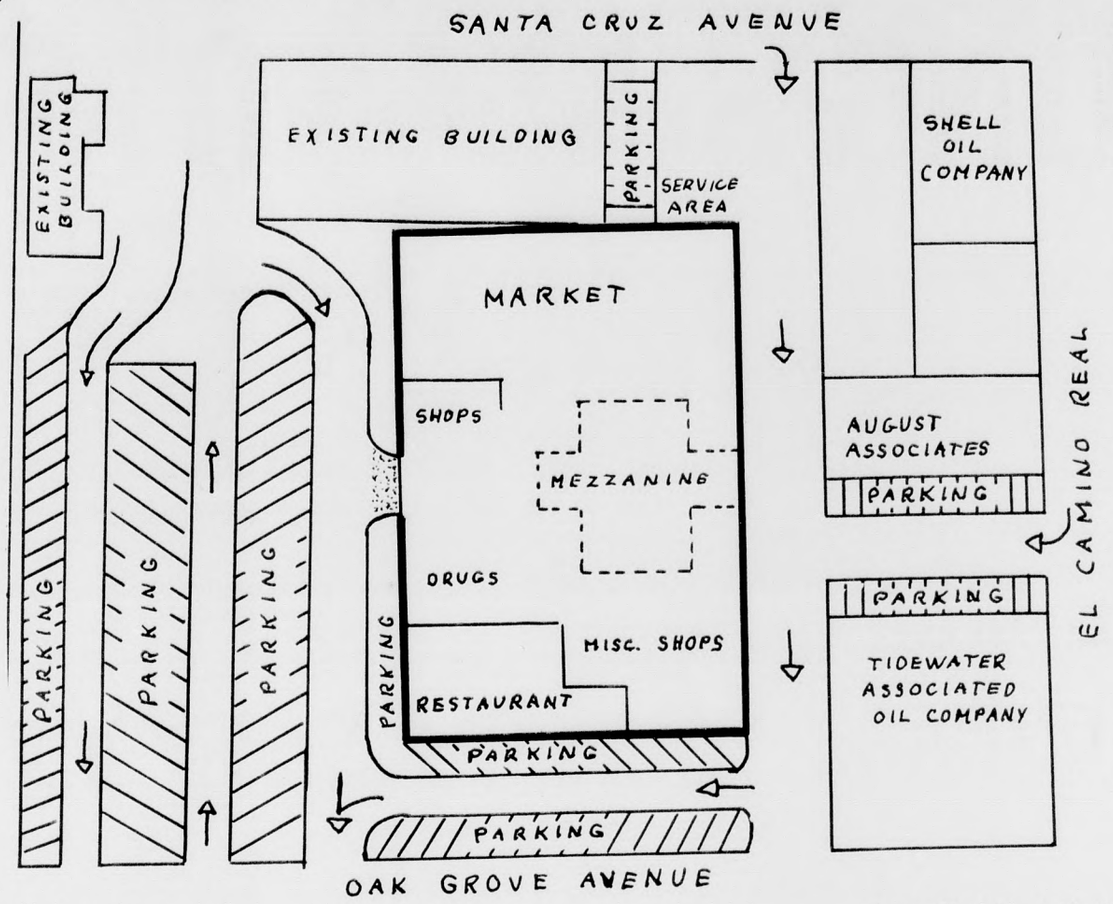

Main entrance to the center will be on Merrill Street, but there will be parking along the Oak Grove Avenue frontage as well, and along an entrance leading to El Camino Real.

The project was put together rapidly, with first drawings shown at city hall less than a month ago, according to City Planner Robert Ironside. The early plans were modified in keeping with suggestions by members of the city staff.

Assembled to make the center possible were properties formerly occupied by a laundry, a funeral home, a restaurant, a meat market, and one of the old hotels held over from the pre-1900 era when Menlo Park was a resort town.

The hotel, the old Oak Grove Villa, is one of the last of these to remain in the area.

Service stations and two modern store buildings facing Santa Cruz Avenue did not join in the land pool.

MENLO CENTER . . . . . . shopping center will use the bulk of the block bounded by Merrill Street, El Camino Real and Oak Grove and Santa Cruz Avenues as shown. The $700,000 development will front on Merrill Street but will have access to all four streets.

Linfield Oaks Apartment Gets City Okay

Plans for a 51-unit, two-story apartment development, to be constructed facing the north side of the Willow Road-Alma Street intersection, Monday night were approved by the Menlo Park planning commission.

The plans were submitted in behalf of the Claude T. Lindsay Co., owners of the property.

The plans had previously been presented to the commissioners a month ago, but the planners at that time called for revisions, indicating they felt the front elevation of the apartments could be improved.

The Lindsay firm also owns property facing the south side of the intersection, which is similarly zoned to that which is to be developed in the present proposal.

City, Insurance Firm Negotiate Sand Hill Access

A series of agreements between Allstate Insurance Co. and the Menlo Park City Council were reached Tuesday night, apparently solving the knotty problem of access from the new Allstate building site to busy Sand Hill Road.

The formal action also apparently clears the decks for creation of an assessment district including all of the ownerships along Sand Hill in the city's highly-restrictive C-1-C zone.

The district setup is needed to finance the access road which the city council feels is vital to preserving some control over increasingly-heavy Sand Hill Road traffic.

City Attorney John Jorgenson said that the Allstate agreement means that over 50 per cent of the ownerships would now support a district. District formation can now be started, he said.

As currently planned, the access road will allow traffic onto Sand Hill at only three points from the "strip" of C-1-C zoned property.

First, the council approved a subdivider's agreement with Allstate that acknowledges the need for a 30-foot frontage road easement and that the land owner will file a subdivision map for it.

Included in the agreement at the request of the company was a proviso that public hearings be held at the traffic safety commission and city council levels if and when the city officially calls for formation of the district.

NO INTERFERENCE

"This does not legally interfere with the city's right to act in setting up the district," Jorgenson said. Bert Currie, attorney for Allstate, said the company only wanted a chance to have all affected land-owners gather to air their views in one place.

Get Allies In Fight Against Ladera Dam

Menlo Park and Stanford University have won over important allies in their three-year battle against creation of a huge San Francisquito creek dam near Ladera.

The new supporters are the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors and their counterparts in Santa Clara County.

However, the Army Corps of Engineers, proponents of the big dam plan, have not yet flown the flag of truce. They have opposed the Menlo Park-Stanford contention that channel improvements are the best bet for flood control.

The two county boards originally supported the big dam theory.

But, according to a report Tuesday night by Menlo Park City Manager John R. Johnson, they are ready to send a letter to the Army Engineers supporting the city-Stanford viewpoint.

Johnson told City Councilmen here that "all of the jurisdictions involved are now pulling in the same direction."

The letter tells the Army Engineers that the two counties have reviewed his report that "some doubt remains if it (the Ladera dam plan) will best serve the area."

They suggest that channel improvements, or channel improvements coupled with a small flood control dam, should be investigated again.

(This, Johnson said, is what the university and city have been saying all along.)

QUESTIONS

The letter also pointedly asks the Army Engineers to keep local authorities informed and to consult with them during any future Francisquito creek flood control studies.

The Council also:

—Accepted the $4,631.38 bid of Hersey-Sparling Meter Co. for two eight-inch turbine meters that will "watch" the flow of water from the Sand Hill Road water system to lines serving the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center.

—Designated Morey Drive and Kenwood Drive off Middle Avenue as restricted streets where trucks of more than three gross tons will be barred. The same designation was placed on Kavanaugh Drive which connects the unincorporated Flood Park Estates subdivision with Kavanaugh Industrial Park in East Menlo Park.

—Heard that the Menlo Park Sanitary District won't charge the city for the Community Activities Building connection because of past city courtesies in connection with district projects.

—Appointed appraiser David Ingram as the right of way agent for the city in the current search for property which the city will purchase for the future headquarters of the sanitary district. The present headquarters site will eventually be needed for civic center expansion.

—Held an executive session during which potential sites for the headquarters were discussed, along with possible prices.

LaFitte Again Heads County Society Board

St. George Lafitte of Menlo Park was this week re-elected president of the Society for Crippled Children and Adults of San Mateo county.

Elected to serve with Lafitte were Peter Lubchenko, Redwood City, first vice-president; Carl Anderson, Bulingame, second vice-president; and Mrs. Elsieann Irvin, Burlingame, secretary-treasurer.

Re-elected as directors of the organization for a second term were Robert W. Atkinson, South San Francisco; Harry J. Boyle, Mrs. Reed J. Bekins, Hillsborough; and Carl Ward of San Mateo.

Newly elected directors include Dr. William A. Key, San Mateo; Robbins Milbank, San Francisco, Robert Thompson, Burlingame, Dr. Bernard McLaughlin, Burlingame, and M. B. O'Connor, San Mateo.

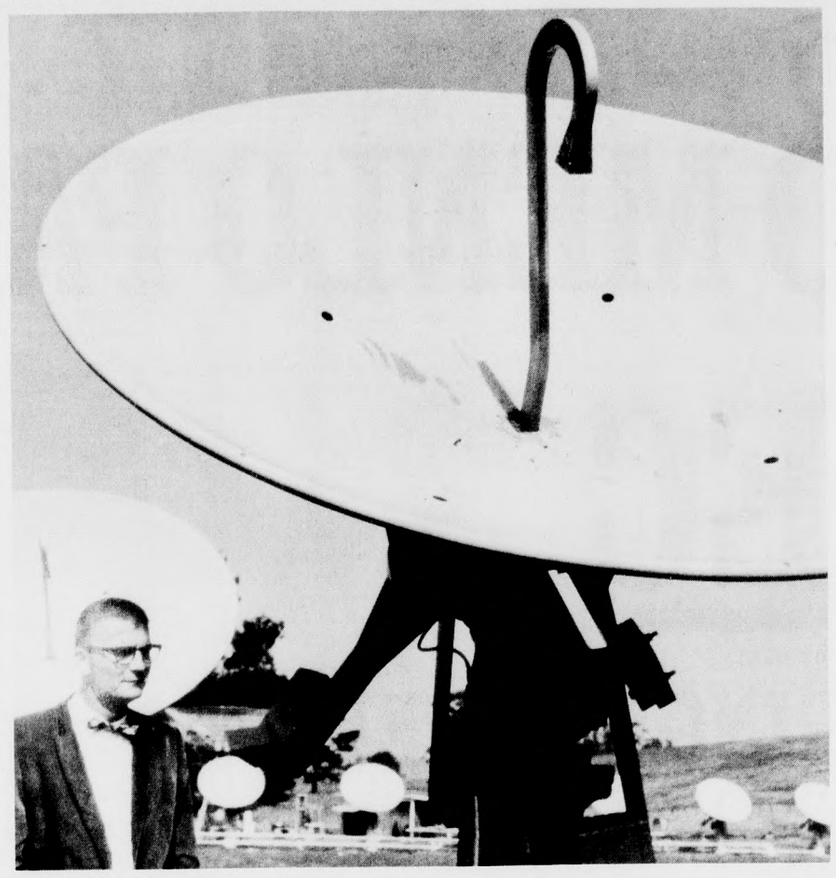

The Society operates the Rehabilitation and Research Center at 1764 Marco Polo Way, Burlingame, which is open to handicapped persons of any age, race, creed or color.

Woman Injured In Auto Crash

Nancy Mahs Waln, 32, of 165 Pine View Lane, suffered facial injuries Oct. 24, when her auto went out of control and struck a brick pillar at Middlefield Road and DeBell Drive.

Atherton police said she was attempting a left turn from Oak Grove Avenue when she lost control. Her 1961 automobile was damaged extensively, they added.

COTTON CANDY MOON . . . .or something very like it was seen by Dr. David Cudaback of Los Trancos Woods, using the 32-dish Stanford Cross radio telescope in unusual nine-centimeter wavelength studies of the lunar landscape. The extra-long wavelength enabled him to determine that the moon's surface is at least 80 per cent 4porous to a depth of several yards, which suggests the moon's crust has a filamentary structure like that of cotton candy or perhaps a cellular structure resembling crackerjack or honeycomb.

Figured Here:

Local Astronomer Has New On Surface Structure of Moon

The moon is not made of green cheese, according to new radio astronomy observations at Stanford University.

More likely it is covered with cotton candy. Or it may have a crust of honeycomb, or even crackerjack.

Structures very much like these, at least, are indicated in a theory proposed by Dr. David D. Cudaback of 1065 Los Trancos Woods Road, member of the staff of Stanford's Radio Astronomy Institute and the University of California-Berkeley Astronomy Department.

The moon's surface could be filamentary, like cotton candy, or it could be foam-like, he said. If its structure is foamy, two types seem possible:

"One type suggests crackerjack," says Dr. Cudaback, "where the foam cells have burst and released their gas. The other suggests a honeycomb, with its cell walls intact and still containing gas.

"The highly porous surface probably has been produced by melting from meteor impacts," he said "Somewhat denser materials have been detected inside young craters of the moon.

"These occasional compacted areas seen in young craters probably are present in old craters, too, but lie covered over with porous materials thrown about by later meteor impacts.

"Different velocities of the melted material thrown off by the impact could cause the cotton candy layer.

"If it is foam, this would have to have been formed in a yet unexplained way. If such foam-like structures had been produced eons ago, they would long since have been crushed and eroded away by meteors."

The moon's entire surface is at least 80 per cent porous to a depth of several yards, Dr. Cudaback reports. The porous layer may be much deeper than that, but it is not yet possible to measure it.

TRANSPARENT

The lunar surface is so transparent to radio waves that he was able to look through several yards of it—to the "unit optical depth" of the nine-centimeter wavelength he was observing.

"Longer wavelength observations would permit study of still deeper layers," he said. "Nine-centimeter observations easily resolve the maria (lowlands) and terrae (highlands) of the moon and, down to an accuracy of three per cent, could detect no differences in temperature or radio emission from them.

"The dielectric constant (an electrical factor) of the surface material is only 1.1 times that of empty space—a startling figure to astronomers. This was determined by measuring variations of the radio emission at different angles, then substituting these measurement's in Fresnel's equations."

His observations were made possible by special manipulation of the 32-dish Stanford Cross radio telescope, Dr. Cudaback said. The Air Force Office of Scientific Research supported the work.

"As often happens in research," he said, "similar work was being done at the same time by two Russians, Salomonovich and Troitski. Their conclusion that the moon has a "wooly, cottony" surface was announced earlier this year.

"Previously astronomers had concluded that the moon was covered by a very thin layer of dust lying on top of gravel. A more modern interpretation of the information shows that this view was erroneous."

The highly porous surface now postulated by Dr. Cudaback and others may complicate the problems of men on the moon. But whatever its consistency, he emphasized that more knowledge of it is vital before astronauts undertake to land on it, explore and take off again.

If the honeycomb material exists and still holds gas in its cells, he said, this might prove very useful to moon explorers. On the other hand he is pessimistic about finding water frozen close beneath the lunar surface, a windfall that moon explorers have been hoping for.

"If there were much ice at depths shallow enough to be visible at radio wavelengths," he said, "we would have detected it by its different dielectric constant."

An article describing the work has been submitted by Dr. Cudaback to Icarus, a professional journal of solar system astronomy.

Retiring Prof Honored At Dinner Here

More than 100 letters of tribute and congratulations from former students, colleagues and friends of Emeritus Prof. Eugene L. Grant were presented to the recently retired engineering authority last week at a banquet in his honor at the Pioneer Hotel in Woodside.

A luncheon at Bowman Alumni House honoring Prof. Grant also is planned for Friday, Nov. 2, by McGraw-Hill Book Co. for more than 50 invited guests and colleagues. The firm had published two widely-used texts authored by Prof. Grant, including his "Statistical Quality Control" now in preparation for its third edition and considered the "bible" in its field.

Nearly 100 attended the Woodside dinner, at which a bound volume containing the letters was presented by Prof. W. Grant Ireson, executive head of the Department of Industrial Engineering. The department and the Stanford School of Engineering were hosts for the event.

Gifts also were presented both to Prof. Grant and Mrs. Grant from the Department of Civil Engineering, which he headed from 1947 to 1956.

Navy Schedules NROTC Exam For December

Eligible high school seniors and graduates will take the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps examination this December at Stanford University, the Navy department announced.

(Two Ravenswood High graduates, Randall Kimball and Henry Gonzales, are now attending college after winning NROTC scholarships.)

Application forms had to be mailed to the Navy by Friday of last week.

The test will take place on Dec. 8 at the university. Those who pass it and a physical examination will be considered for scholarship grants. These allow the student to attend the college of his choice while earning a Navy commission.

All tuition fees and books are furnished by the Navy and the student receives a retainer of $600 per year for not more than four years. During the summer, he takes training cruises as a midshipman.

After successfully completing the usual four-year college courses, he is commissioned in the regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on duty as a prospective career officer.

Following the December aptitude tests, a rigid physical examination will come early in 1963. More than 2000 of those who pass both test and physical will be able to begin their Naval careers next September.

County Planners Nix Rental

The Alpine Hills Tennis and Swimming Club won't be able to rent a vacant building at the club site as a business office, the San Mateo County Planning Commission said last week.

They denied a variance application submitted by club secretary Elton F. Martin. The club had hoped to allow the use of a building on the Alpine Road frontage by an insurance firm.

The commission ruled that any hardship caused by the vacancy was self-imposed, i.e., it resulted from the club's construction of other buildings which supplanted the original one.

The Portola Valley Association also had representatives present to oppose the variance.

Local Planner Moves Office

William E. Spangle Jr., planning consultant for the Town of Woodside, this week has moved his offices from Menlo Park to Redwood City. His practice will be conducted under the name William Spangle and Associates, City and Regional Planners.

Spangle's new quarters are in the Woodside Plaza Building, Suite 205, 1690 Woodside Road.

E. Finley Carter Attends Seminar

E. Finley Carter of 137 Ash Lane, Westridge, Friday attended a seminar of community leaders concerned with the United Nations and World Affairs sponsored by the Foreign Policy Association and held in New York City.

Carter is president of Stanford Research Institute.

Led by staff officers of the United States Mission to the United Nations, the program included discussions of the role of the United States in the United Nations, the economic and social aspects of United States foreign policy and the role of the United Nations in the field.

Approximately 70 community leaders representing a cross-section of business, labor, education and other groups throughout the country attended the meeting.

+ LET'S TALK IT OVER: A PAGE FOR OPINIONS --OURS, YOURS and OTHERS'-- +

As We See It:

This election campaign has been one where very few legitimate issues have been raised by the "outs" who want in.

In view of the nit-picking campaign, this newspaper is going to support the incumbent candidates of both parties.

We'll start at the top. Governor Edmund G. Brown's administration has not been lacking in accomplishment — albeit somewhat ponderous in its progress.

The challenger, Richard M. Nixon, has failed to come up with any burning reasons as to why the present administration should be consigned to history. Brown should be re-elected.

In our opinion, George Christopher is seeking the wrong office. Had things been different, our recommendation on the governorship might have been something else again.

Christopher has our highest esteem, but because we believe the state's chief executive deserves a second-in-command who is, at least, from the same political stable, and again because we do not believe Christopher has raised any concrete reasons for throwing out Glenn M. Anderson, we urge a vote for Anderson.

Besides, San Francisco can still use a good mayor, and it has one.

For the same reasons, we feel that Congressman J. Arthur Younger, representing the 11th District, and California Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi of the 26th district should be returned to office.

Their opponents, Democrats William J. Keller and Donald A. Barr, have done their best to find fault with the record of the Republican incumbents. In our opinion, they have not succeeded.

Both Younger and Britschgi have accumulated seniority and legislative experience during their years in office. This is valuable. Although they are not spectacular politicians who command the public eye, they are doing solid jobs in their respective legislatures.

State Senator Richard Richards is an earnest campaigner but he's made very little progress in chipping away at the record of U. S. Senator Thomas A. Kuchel. Kuchel's continuing development as an effective federal legislator will likely result in his gaining the largest popular vote of any California candidate.

On the local level, we feel that Redwood City Assessor-Auditor John J. Brophy is the logical choice for county tax collector. He has sound experience in tax matters and is familiar with the problems of administering a major public office.

His opponent, Ross Conti, undoubtedly has ability in the fiscal field but we'll take Brophy on the basis of more experience.

Perhaps the hottest of all state campaigns — in terms of charge and counter-charge, vehement opposition and unbending support — has been that for the post of State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The very heat generated in this race seems out of place in connection with the state's top educational administrative position and, in our eyes, casts a cloud upon both candidates.

Through the smoke and flame, however, we believe we discern a hard-headed view of education with which we can agree and a considerable edge in the matter of administrative experience on the side of Dr. Max Rafferty.

We won't attempt to deal here with the uncontested elections other than to say that the present members of the San Mateo County Board of Harbor Commissioners ought to make themselves, their policies and their work better known to the public. With that hope in mind, we recommend their re-election.

Here is the full list of our recommendations:

GOVERNOR

Edmund G. Brown, Democrat, incumbent.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Glenn M. Anderson, Democrat, incumbent.

SECRETARY OF STATE

Frank M. Jordan, Republican, incumbent.

CONTROLLER

Alan Cranston, Democrat, incumbent.

TREASURER

Bert A. Betts, Democrat, incumbent.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

Stanley Mosk, Democrat, incumbent.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

George R. Reilly, Democrat, incumbent (uncontested election).

UNITED STATES SENATOR

Thomas H. Kuchel, Republican, incumbent.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS, 11TH DISTRICT

J. Arthur Younger, Republican, incumbent.

MEMBER OF THE ASSEMBLY 26TH DISTRICT

Carl A. Britschgi, Republican, incumbent.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

Dr. Max Rafferty, District Superintendent of Schools.

COUNTY TAX COLLECTOR

John J. Brophy, Redwood City Assessor-Auditor.

HARBOR DISTRICT BOARD

Ralsey J. Edwards, Sigval B. Johnson, J. Joseph Madden, incumbents (uncontested election).

THE PROPOSITIONS

Last week, this newspaper outlined its thinking on the 25 propositions calling for voter action on next Tuesday's ballot. To recapitulate, these are our recommendations:

1-A—Yes.	7—Yes.	13—Yes.	19—Yes.
1—No.	8—Yes.	14—No.	20—Yes.
2—No.	9—Yes.	15—Yes.	21—Yes.
3—Yes.	10—No.	16—Yes.	22—Yes.
4—Yes.	11—Yes.	17—Yes.	23—No.
5—Yes.	12—No.	18—Yes.	24—No.
6—Yes.

County Comment:

Predictions Made on Election

By FLOYD F. McCUE
Editor and Publisher, Redwood City Star Tribune

With the Cuba situation taking the spotlight in everyone's mind, what will this crucial time in our history do to the general election coming up Nov. 6? Will many people forget to vote, or feel that "local politics" are not important? Or will the reaction be just the opposite: that citizens will be more anxious than ever to cast a ballot?

County Clark John A. Bruning, who always hits the voting percentage within a few points, would not venture a guess on any of these questions at the time we prepared this column.

He said he based his voter turnout estimate on the number of absentee ballots taken out. So far for this "off-year" election, it is running about half of what it was for the presidential election two years ago. In 1958 San Mateo county had about 81 per cent of its eligible voters go to the polls. In the presidential election two years ago the turnout was better than 90 per cent.

If the war scare doesn't become real the turnout this year may run about 85 per cent as there is a lot of interest in the Brown-Nixon fight as well as the other races. Only the turn of national events will decide how much interest remains in electing local, state and federal representatives.

San Mateo county has four "local races" that ordinarily would draw voter interest. All the dope we can find now predicts an easy victory for Republican Congressman J. Arthur Younger no matter how the Brown-Nixon fight comes out. Even some of the ardent Democrats are practically conceding the veteran Younger will win handily and his opponent is hoping to build up strong for an all-out fight two years from now.

Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi of Redwood City seems to have another term in Sacramento safely wrapped up. His big vote in June plus the fact that in the general election he can get heavy support from the Democrats make it look easy. Britschgi has never had too much trouble winning in past years.

The assembly race in the north county has a somewhat clouded picture. Both candidates seek the seat vacated by Louis Francis who was moved out of his district by the state redistricting. Mayor Byrd of Burlingame, the Republican, apparently is not piling up the support he should have for a winning campaign. Democrat Leo Ryan has a unsuccessful campaign against Francis on his record but we will have to pick him for a close win.

The north county assembly district is a Democratic stronghold, but has elected a Republican for many years so Byrd still must be given an outside chance.

The lone county office race is between John J. Brophy of Redwood City and Ross Conti, the present assistant county tax collector for the head of that department. Conti, with strong backing from the courthouse, apparently must be picked as the winner.

Brophy, who placed second in the five-man June primary race, doesn't seem to have picked up the support he deserves. We look for Conti to go in by 15,000 majority or even better — even if our support is the other way.

Getting away from the election, we notice that San Mateo county is far from out of the rapid transit studies despite the fact that there will be no voting here on the bond issue of almost a billion dollars at the general election.

The proposed system will include only plans for San Francisco and the East Bay area. The San Mateo County Development Association and the Governmental Research Council have joined with special committees to study transit problems in this county and will work with the special committee of the board of supervisors.

William M. Werder, Redwood City, supervisor, heads the committee, which to date has been waiting for the decision of the rapid transit bond issue on Nov. 6 and then will attempt to work out a plan that will fit into the district plan — providing it is appoved by the voters.

The report of the Greater Highway Committee will have a strong influence on the transit studies, we are told.

One question that must be answered is: "Will even greater freeways do the job without rapid transit?" There are many people who are sure some transit plan must be worked out. We can expect a lot of work on this problem — again with the provision that the present transit district bonds pass next month.

Municipal Report:

Bay Front Has Promising Future

While the city presently concerns itself with recreation in the inhabited portion of the city, other agencies are going ahead with plans which might well, ultimately, provide the city with a marina or bayside recreation site.

Chief among these is the South San Mateo County Garbage and Refuse Disposal District; City Councilman Ira Bonde, who is also chairman of the district's board of directors, is the main architect of the proposed development.

City councilmen, it will be recalled, discussed the possibility of using land filled by the garbage district for recreational purposes, several weeks ago. But representatives of the district have been contacting other agencies also.

An item in the minutes of the most recent past meeting of the garbage and refuse disposal district board of trustees summarizes how negotiations are going:

"The district manager reported to the board on his appearance before the county parks and recreation commission," it declares.

"Members of the commission are most interested in working with the district in the development of some type of recreational program at Marsh Road.

"The board agreed to await the outcome of reviews being made by the city of Menlo Park before taking any action.

"Because the property is within the city of Menlo Park and the city has expressed some interest in the development of a city recreation plan, the board felt there should be some expression by the city before giving the county any commitment."

Whatever commitment is given and to whom will probably have far-reaching effects.

For one thing, there's no shortage of garbage and refuse to be disposed of by the "fill and cover" method.

Thus, in time, available land will grow to considerable acreage which might well extend to the shores of West Point Slough, or to the bay itself.

The city, with what may seem undue conservatism, asked that when the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. builds another bayside power line, it maintain a minimum clearance of 125 feet above high water, at the entrance of West Point Slough.

That means that, given dredging or high ground at the bayside, the entrance of West Point Slough might well become a harbor for ocean-going ships — whether pleasure craft or commercial carriers.

Further, a proposed "deep water channel" to a proposed harbor for the city of San Jose, looked for some time in the indefinite future, passes close inshore near Ravenswood Point, just south of the slough's entrance onto the bay.

Figuring all these things together, it develops that the bayside frontage has a tremendous potential for the accommodation of shipping of one sort or another.

What else can areas filled by the garbage and refuse district be used for, in addition to the accommodation of ships?

According to a master plan drafted by the county some years ago, there's a possibility that some bayside filled land will be reserved for industrial use.

The plan also calls for the development of an eventual Bayfront freeway which will roughly parallel the present Bayshore.

Somewhere in the plan is an airport, to accommodate the "company planes" of the industrialists who are supposed to operate the businesses in the filled area.

Weighing all of the ideas that have been turned over regarding the eventual development of what's now tideland, it can be seen that most public agencies concerned have been proceeding with a good deal of caution and with highly optimistic, and possibly justified, opinions of what's in store for that area.

The bayfront land, as it exists today, proves very profitable to the Leslie Salt Co. If the taxing agencies of the area are to take it over, they'll have to pay a fair and honest price for it.

But beyond that, the filling of the land should prove remarkably inexpensive, considering what it might eventually become. It'll all be done with refuse.

30 Years Ago:

Baseball Star Moved Here

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 30 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community.

October 21, 1932:

San Mateo county is proving to be a mecca for big league baseball stars.

"Ty" Cobb, one of the most colorful figures in the history of baseball, has taken a year's lease on the two and a half acre Van Husen place on Almendral Avenue, Atherton, and is due to arrive soon with his family from Atlanta, Ga., his home since retiring from baseball several years ago.

Cobb was the kingpin of the Detroit Tiger outfield for years and hung up many hitting, fielding and games-played records.

Tallant Tubbs, Republican nominee for United States Senator and Senator Shortridge of Atherton, defeated by Tubbs in the primary election, held a luncheon conference yesterday at the Shortridge residence here.

It was understood the session concerned Tubbs' campaign. He said last night that the meeting was pleasant and that matters were discussed which may lead to a statement from Senator Shortridge within a few days.

Oiling on the tempoprary surfacing across the new culvert bridge across San Francisquito Creek on Middlefield Road was being allowed to dry today and the crossing will be opened tomorrow morning to handle traffic to the Stanford-California football game.

Algebra Classes In Experiment

The algebra classes taught by Richard Piserchio and Lowell Thomas at Woodside High School are participating in a study sponsored by the School Mathematics Study Group at Stanford, it was reported this week.

The study involves the use of a teaching machine, programmed for algebra. Tenth-grade geometry also is a part of the study.

Msgr. Kennedy Leader in Fund Drive

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edwin J. Kennedy, pastor of St. Raymond's Church here, has been named moderator for this area, ta direct the fund-raising efforts of preists and laymen in 133 parishes from Novato to Gilroy, for a new cathedral for the San Francisco archdiocese of the Catholic church.

Funds will also be raised for three new high schools, a home for the aged, and a new college seminary.

The archdiocese has been divided into 12 regions, for purposes o fthe fund-raising. Monsignor Kennedy is in charge of Region IV.

The archdiocese's St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco was destroyed by fire Sept. 7.

The campaign has a minimum goal of $15,000,000.

Robert MacBride Aids Rafferty

Robert MacBride of Woodside has been named chairman of the Woodside-Portola Valley Citizens for Rafferty Committee, it was announced this week.

MacBride is a resident of 1166 Canada Road, Woodside, and a stockbroker with offices in Palo Alto. Although a trustee for the Woodside Elementary School District, he made it clear his stand in favor of Dr. Max Rafferty is a personal one made as a parent and citizen.

Our Nose for News

TELLS US:

NBC's famed election reporting team of Chet Huntley and David Brinkley will keep a sharp eye on San Mateo County returns November 6.

The county represents a "little California" in voting habits and provides an accurate and dependable means for forecasting statewide results, NBC discovered.

Hence, reporters will feed San Mateo County figures direct to Huntley and Brinkley in NBC's New York election central where they will be used to weigh early returns from other areas and spot trends.

Use of voting machines with the probability of early complete returns enhances the county's position as a barometer, NBC officials said.

The decisions were made after several meetings with county election officials and a careful analysis of the county voting record over the past several elections.

"Good breeding is that quality which enables a person to wait in well-mannered silence while the loudmouth gets ahe service."

And:

A cashier at a race track was handing some money to a little old lady and asked her how she happened to pick a long shot winner.

"I just stuck a pin through by racing program, and there it was," she said. "Yeah, but how come you knocked off four big winners yesterday?" asked teh cashier.

"Oh," laughed the little old lady, "yesterday I cheated a little—I used a fork."

Red Cross Needs Additional 'Gray Ladies' for VA Visits

With the approach of the holiday season, plans are being made to expand the activities of the Red Cross Gray ladies at Palo Alto Veterans' Hospital, according to the office of volunteers of the San Mateo and Sequoia regions of Golden Gate Red Cross Chapter, which sends volunteers to the hospitals.

Ward parties, special craft classes, recreational activities, and special entertainment are being planned for the holidays at the hospital.

In line with the expanded program, both regions have sent out a call for volunteers to serve at either the Menlo Park or Palo Alto facilities of the hospital.

Gray Ladies must be at least 21 years old and in good health. A facility for being a good listener and conversationalist is one of the most outstanding attributes for the job, according to Mrs. Russell Moore, chairman for the San Mateo region in Burlingame.

Gray Ladies serve one morning, afternoon, or evening each week. A basic indoctrination course is given in Red Cross policies, and the hospital provides additional training in its procedures and regulations.

Geriatrics patients receive most of the Gray Lady attention with personal service, shopping, and just visiting and talking according to Mrs. Roderick Bentley, chairman for the Sequoia region and chairman of the El Camino Coordinating Council.

Further information on the Gray Lady program is available at the San Mateo region office, 1449 Bellevue Ave., Burlingame, DIamond 3-4561 or at the Sequoia region, 3540 Middlefield Road, Menlo Park, EMerson 6-3851.

United Church Women Set Observance

United Church Women of the Palo Alto-Menlo Park area will take part in the nationwide observance of World Community Day on Nov. 2 at 2 p.m. at the First Congregational Church, Louis and Embarcadero roads, Palo Alto.

Dr. Lois Todd, who has just returned from an extensive trip to Africa, will be the speaker. Her subject will be "A Glimpse of Africa."

A choir composed of volunteers from the various churches belonging to the Palo Alto-Menlo Park Council of United Church Women will lead the congregational singing, dressed in the robes of their respective churches.

Soloist will be Mrs. Marion Flaherty and the organist, Mrs. Nancy Fiene.

All interested women of the community are cordially invited to attend. Tea will be served following the ceremonies.

Fremont Pupils Elect Officers

Bill Wolsey was elected president of the Fremont School student body recently, at the conclusion of what observers described as an enthusiastic but clean campaign.

Gary Moy was elected vice-president; Laura Weil, secretary and Steve Vignau, secretary.

FIRST CUSTOMER . . .

. . . President John J. Douglas, of Lenkurt Electric Co., Inc., San Carlos, center, receives the first block of five shares of stock in JAWOOD-CO, the Junior Achievement company sponsored by the firm. Completing the transaction are Dan Moore, 95 Middlefield Road, Atherton, staff to the J. A. president, of Menlo-Atherton High School, left, and Ruby Sanford, J. A. president, 1748 Dale Avenue, San Mateo, of San Mateo High School. Shares are sold at 50 cents each, with a maximum purchase of $2.50. Money raised will provide capital to begin the student busines senterprise.

Advertising Agency Expands

John J. O'Rourke, 179 Burns Ave., Atherton, this week announced expansion of the Peninsula staff and facilities offered by his advertising agency, John J. O'Rourke Advertising, Inc. The agency maintains offices in both San Francisco and Palo Alto.

"The increasingly strong competitive situation, together with a real need for comprehensive advertising, data sheets, public relations and special services by more and more technical companies" dictated the expansion, O'Rourke said.

Congdon & Crome has appointed O'Rourke to handle a complete advertising program for its Menlo Park stationery store.

300 MILLION

More than 300 million doses of Type Two KO Polio vaccine have already been given throughout the world. The Bay Area takes Type Two vaccine Sunday. Type Two KO Polio vaccine stations will be open Sunday from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Blood Bank Has Officials at Meet

Mrs. P. J. Hanzlik, administrator of the Peninsula Blood Bank, and Dr. E. J. Tueller, laboratory director of the blood bank, are currently attending the 15th annual meeting of the American Association of Blood Banks at the Hotel Peabody, Memphis, Tenn., through Nov. 3.

One of the key speakers will be Dr. William B. Walsh, Washington, D.C., internist, who founded the Project Hope program.

There will be several symposiums on blood banking problems and several general sessions to conduct business.

Keller Boosters See 'Support'

Support for Democrat William J. Keller for Congressman of San Mateo County is still mounting, it was announced today by Leon Sheills and James Madison of Menlo Park, campaign chairmen for the Keller for Congress Committee.

The chairmen said that "Keller is truly aware of, and concerned with the problems facing the people of the county. Bill has impressed the people with his perspective, aggressiveness, and his sincerity to get the job done. We urge all persons interested in progress for San Mateo County to cast their vote for Keller Nov. 6."

EPA Church Sets New Programs

"The Fellowship of the Lord's Table" will be observed Sunday at 11 a.m. by the congregation of the Community Church, 2201 University Ave., East Palo Alto, Rev. Norman E. Edwards, interim pastor, announced.

The hand of fellowship will be extended to new members with a brief communion meditation preceding the ordinance of communion, he said.

The church youth group will assemble at 6 p.m. for their devotional hour.

An evening evangelistic service at 7 p.m. will be followed by supervised social activities for the youth group from 8 to 9:15 p.m. The activities end with a "singspiration" and refreshments, Rev. Edwards said.

Church Reveals Sermon Topic

"Growing in the Christian Life" will be the sermon topic of Dr. Floyd W. Barr, associate minister, at the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church this Sunday, Nov. 4, at 8:30 a.m., 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Church school will be at the regular 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. times. The adult church school class will be held by Rev. Phillip E. Gilbert, assistant minister, at 9:30 a.m.

Atherton Man Assigned To Malaya

Hamlin Robinson of Atherton, a senior international economist at Stanford Research Institute, leaves this week for a two-year assignment in Malaya.

Under an arrangement among the Institute, the Ford Foundation, and the government of Malaya, Robinson will serve as principal adviser to the Malayan government on the organization and activities of the Rural and Industrial Development Authority. This key role in Malaya's development effort will be the first to be filled by an SRI or Ford Foundation adviser.

Robinson came to the Institute in 1960 after nearly 20 years of U.S. Government service — with the treasury department, the department of state, and the development loan fund — where he gained extensive experience in international financial and economic subjects and with the development problems of the less developed countries.

Upon joining the Institute staff, Robinson led a five-man research team in Nigeria studying that country's transportation problems and requirements. For the past year and a half he has been manager of the Institute's international development center, which is the focal point for the Institute's research and technical assistance activities in the newly developing countries. Robinson has also served as a consultant to the Agency for International Development and to the Ford Foundation.

CONFERENCES DUE

Accused Gunman Faces Trial

Bruce Cassasa, 24, accused of the armed robbery of the Laurentide Finance Co. office at 603 Santa Cruz Ave. here Aug. 13, is to face preliminary trial in Redwood City today.

Cassasa also is accused of holdups in Palo Alto, Sunnyvale, Redwood City, San Bruno and Vallejo.

Cassasa, police reported, got $200 in the local robbery.

He and an accomplice finally were captured in Redwood City in connection with a liquor store holdup.

FIREMEN CALLED

Local firemen were called Friday at 12:25 p.m. to the John Johnson home at 805 Garden St., where a high fidelity radio set had short-circuited. They estimated damage to the set as $100.

Citcom to Hear Machine Expert SRI Teaching

What is a "teaching machine?"

The answers will be forthcoming at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 14, when the Citizen's Advisory Committee for the Ravenswood City School District meets at the district administration building, 2160 Euclid Ave., East Palo Alto.

Philip Sorenson, a man who is playing a key role in investigation of programmed instruction, will be the speaker.

Sorenson is a psychologist at Stanford Research Institute, Menlo Park. He's currently engaged in designing programs for "teaching machines" used in districts where SRI is conducting investigations of their value.

He'll discuss the aims and values of programmed instruction in an elementary school district — and its limitations, committee chairman Ben Marsh said.

Postoffice Starts Hiring For Yuletide

Menlo Park postoffice is accepting applications for Christmas help. The postoffice is situated at 3875 Bohannon Drive.

Applicants must be 18 years of age or older and must be American citizens; veterans must apply between Nov. 1 and Nov. 7 and others may apply through Nov. 10.

Applicants also should be residents of the Menlo Park postal service area, according to Harry B. Morey, postmaster.

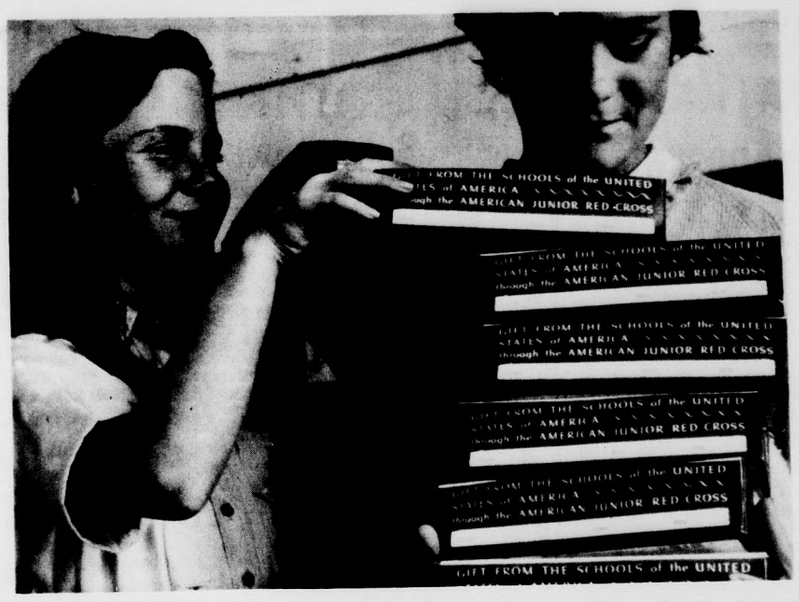

The postoffice expects to hire approximately 40 persons, Morey said. Approximately 10 vehicles also are expected to be hired for the season.

Brown U. Man Visiting Here

David J. Zucconi, admission officer of Brown University, will visit Menlo School Friday morning, Nov. 2. In the afternoon he will visit Menlo-Atherton High School and Woodside High School.

Zucconi will meet with students and confer with officers of the three schools. He is currently on tour, visiting schools in the West.

Atherton Starts Bike Inspection

Atherton police next Monday will embark on their annual bicycle safety program to be conducted at the schools.

Police Lieutenant David Silva and Officers James Burke, Leland Derner and Don Holly will visit the 12 public and private schools within the town, passing out safety literature, talking to members of classes, and inspecting machines for safety devices.

They will also license bikes previously unlicensed, according to Police Chief Leroy Hubbard.

TYPEWRITER MISSED

A portable typewriter, valued at $120, Tuesday was reported missing from the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church, according to police.

Atherton Town Assistant Takes New Job

Atherton assistant city administrator Harry Gustafson officially left his post in the Atherton town government yesterday to join Lockheed Missiles and Space Division in Sunnyvole in the government security section there.

Gustafson, 30, is married and has been with the town since August, 1960, when he was appointed administrative assistant to city administrator Howard Boren. Six months later he was elevated to assistant city administrator at a salary of $685 a month.

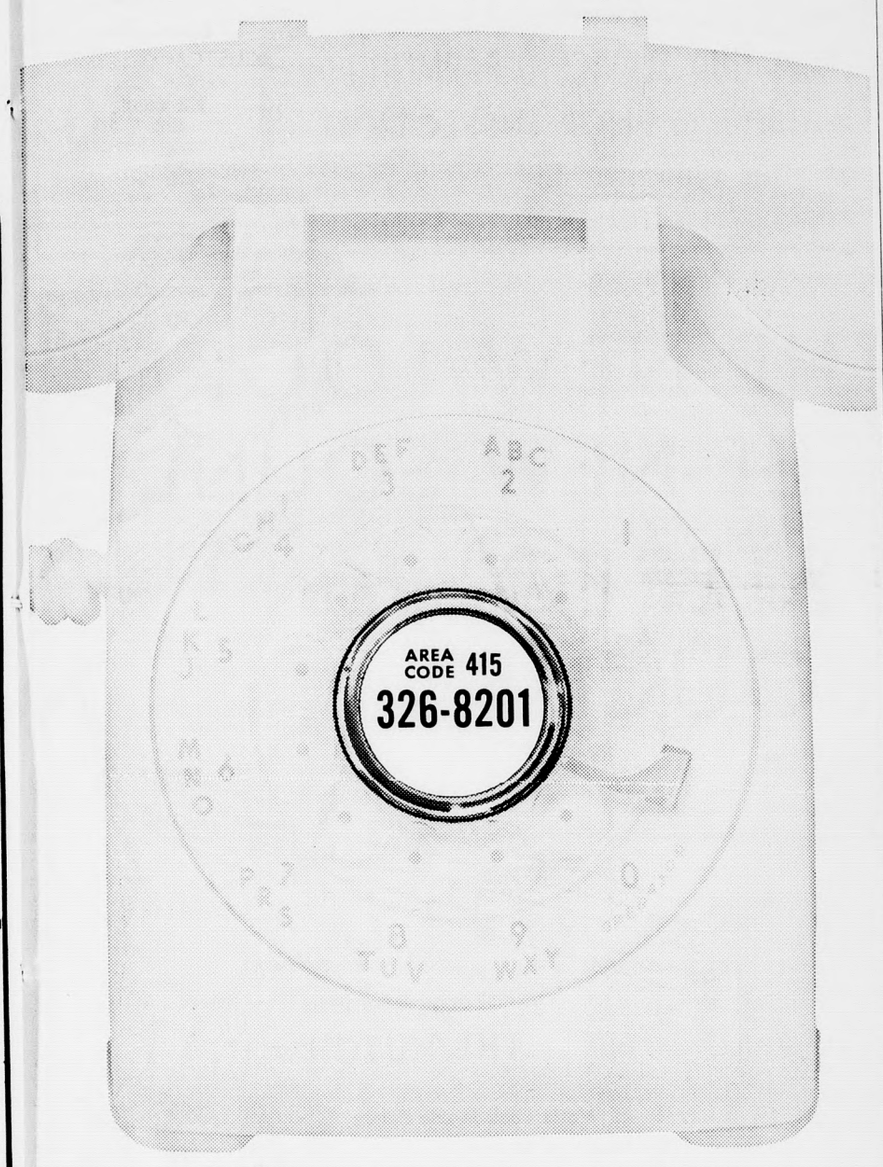

Gustafson is a 1957 graduate of the University of California at Berkeley and is working his way toward a master's degree in criminology there at present.

Boren said this week that no successor is in view. "I'm just going to take my time on that," he noted.

The Palo Alto, Menlo Park, Atherton and Mountain View area is gradually changing to all-numeral phone numbers

It's really simple—you just dial numbers instead of letters. And since the numbers correspond to the same dial openings as the letters they replace, dialing itself remains the same.

The country's growing population is the reason for all-numeral phone numbers. As more and more families get telephones, usable letter combinations for prefix names are used up. Going to an all-numeral system throughout the nation will help make enough phone numbers available to keep up with this growth.

All Number Calling will help prevent wrong numbers caused by mistaken spelling, such as "CI" instead of "CY" for CYpress. It also eliminates the confusion between the letter "O" and the numeral "0" and the letter "I" and the numeral "1". When all telephone numbers throughout the country are all numerals, the letters can be removed from the dial, making dials easier to read and use.

The switch to this universal type of numbering is taking place gradually. Anyone getting service for the first time, moving to a new address or getting a new phone number in the area served by the Palo Alto and Mountain View Directories, is now being given an all-numeral number. All other numbers will be converted during the next few months. During this conversion, Information Operators will give out some numbers with numerals and others with letters. By the end of January everyone will have received a new number card for the telephone dial. This card will show the all-numeral phone number. (The area code shown is only for people calling you from outside your area.)

If you have any questions about All Number Calling, please call your Business Office. Pacific Telephone

Pupils Aid Cuban Refugees With Junior Red Cross Project

Friendship — the friendship of children for children, which knows no barrier of distance or language — is getting a boost from Junior Red Cross members here.

At several area schools, groups of youngsters are busy filling "friendship" boxes for young Cuban refugees in Florida.

While doing so, they themselves are learning something about the people they are aiding.

Several area schools have classes participating in the project.

Typical are two fifth grade classes at Fremont School in Menlo Park.

According to district policy, the schools can participate in Junior Red Cross projects such as this if the projects tie in with the instructional program, explains Principal Ray Cruickshank.

"Our fifth graders currently are studying Latin America; they're taking Spanish, too, and they are learning a little about international politics as well," he explains.

"Each of the classes was asked to make up five boxes for distribution to refugee children.

"Each box was to contain three articles: one 'educational', such as pencils; another a 'health item', such as a toothbrush; the other a toy."

The youngsters also had a committee which formed and selected the items for which they had collected the money. This gave them an experience in this phase of human activity as well, Cruickshank explains.

Mrs. Jean Givens and Mrs. Burt Norall are instructors of the classes at Fremont involved in th program; Miss Kathryn Foote, second grade teacher, is coordinating the program with the Sequoia region Red Cross headquarters.

Other schools participating in this area, and the coordinators, include:

Menlo Oaks, Miss Karen Andrews, and Corte Madera, Miss Dorothy Telfer.

More than 2500 of the kits will be shipped from the San Francisco Golden Gate Chapter of which the Sequoia region is a part, to Miami, according to Mrs. Roy Cloud, Junior Red Cross chairman for the Sequoia region.

Teachers' Unit Backs Rafferty For Election

Formation of a Mid-Peninsula Teachers for Rafferty Committee to assist in election of Dr. Max Rafferty as state superintendent of public instruction was announced this week.

Including leading teachers and retired teachers from virtually every city in the Mid-Peninsula area, the committee is headed by John M. Comer of 498 LaMesa Drive, Menlo Park, a member of the Menlo-Atherton High School faculty.

Information and speakers are available by contacting Comer or any of the following teachers on the committee:

Kenneth P. Allen, Dr. Frank Arnold, Robert Ayers, Dr. Thomas N. Barry, Miss LeOra Baxter, Mrs. Harold Best, Miss Winifred Burke, Frank Bryan.

County Rates High in Survey Of Median Family Income

San Mateo county rates ninth in median family income of all the counties in the country, according to a report released this week by the United States Department of Commerce.

Median family income for the county, according to the compilation, is $8103. The figures are contained in a county and city data book, and are based on figures of the 1960 census.

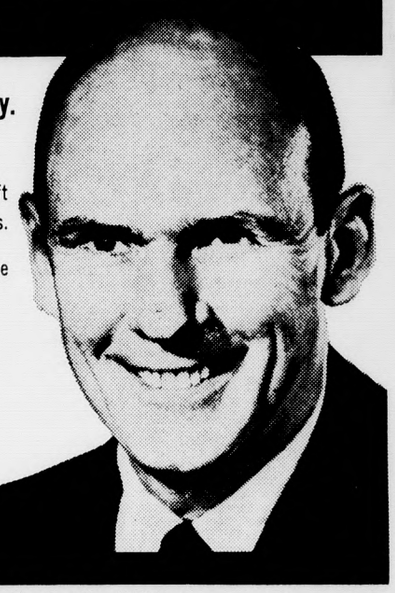

Montgomery county, Maryland, is rated as the county with the highest median family income in the country; it is rated at $9317.

San Mateo county's median family income shades that of Westchester county in New York, in which the figure is $8052. Marin county shaws a slightly higher median family income than San Mateo.

East Palo Alto Boy Wins 'Pinewood'

Don Clinkinbeard, age 8, of 2568 Illinois, East Palo Alto, won the Live Oak District Pinewood Derby on Saturday, Oct. 27, at Burgess gym in Menlo Park.

Don is a member of Pack 207, sponsored by the Costano School PTA. Second place was taken by Norman Maslov, 5 Harrison Way, Menlo Park, a member of Pack 163, sponsored by the Menlo Park Kiwanis Club.

Peter Grabosky, age 9, 2530 Illinois in East Palo Alto, took third place. Peter also belongs to Pack 207, Costano School.

The Pinewood Derby is a race between handmade model racing cars that may ont weigh more than five ounces. The cars are lined up at the top of a steeply inclined track and released simultaneously to race to the finish line some 30 feet away. The cars that raced in this run-off were the winners of the various Pack races, run earlier this year.

LOT VARIANCE OK

San Mateo County Planning Commissioners have approved David S. Garber's variance application which allows him to create an interior lot of less than standard size at the rear of 940 Menlo Oaks Drive, Menlo Park. They advised him to make some changes in the boundary lines to make the two lots more satisfactory in size.

David H. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. White of 1229 Whitaker Way, has been pledged to Sigma Chi fraternity at St. Lawrence University, Canton, New York.

—Obituaries—

John D. Wells

John David Wells, a lifetime resident of North Carolina who was visiting his daughter and son-in-law here, died Sunday in Menlo Park at the age of 79.

A native of Elm City, North Carolina, he had attended schools in that state and in Virginia and had spent most of his life in Wilson, N.C. He was a tobacco grower and a pioneer automobile and truck dealer in that state, also.

Schools he attended included Trinity College, now Duke University; the University of Kentucky and the Columbia University law school. He was affiliated with the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Until his retirement five years ago he was an enthusiastic horseman and an active member of the Carolina Aero Club.

Wells is survived by his son-in-law and daughter here, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Coleman of 605 Oak Knoll Lane; John D. Wells III of Raleigh, North Carolina, and a second son, Llewellyn Wells of Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Three grandchildren also survive.

Remains were shipped to Wilson for interment; Johnston Colonial Mortuary, 650 Live Oak Ave., was in charge of arrangements.

Irene Carter

Funeral services were held Monday for Miss Irene Loretta Carter, a native of Menlo Park who died at the Carmel home of a sister last Friday.

Miss Carter, who was 58, was the sister of Loana Helen Carter of Carmel, at whose home she died. She was the niece of of Elmer Carter of Menlo Park.

Miss Carter had been a local sales representative for Helen Carter, Inc., a women's garment firm operated by her sister. She made her final home here at 653 Roble Ave.

Her death followed a long illness.

Funeral services were conducted from the Palo Alto chapel of Roller and Hapgood, 980 Middlefield Road.

Interment at Cypress Lawn cemetery, Colma, followed the services.

Robert P. Sims

Funeral services are to be held tomorrow for Robert P. Sims, owner and operator of Sims Radio and Television Service here, who died in Palo Alto yesterday after a long period of failing health.

A resident of the area, Sims had made his final home at 323 O'Keefe St.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., he was 61 at the time of his death.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth, who resides at the family address; a son, Robert Joseph Sims of Oakland, and his mother, Mrs. Ada Willcock of Los Angeles.

Friends are invited to the funeral services, which are to be held at the chapel of Roller and Hapgood, 980 Middlefield Road in Palo Alto, at 10 a.m. Friday. The Revs. Richard Gatchell and Norman Edwards are to officiate at the services.

Interment is to be at Golden Gate National Cemetery.

Deputation To Visit Baptist Church

A deputation team from the First Presbyterian Church of Berkeley Sunday evening will present the program at the worship service of the Menlo Park First Baptist Church, telling of their experiences.

The public is invited to attend the service, which convenes at 7 p.m.

Two of the members of the team, Evelyn Bain and Judy Robson, spent the summer in Guatemala City.

Another, Bonnie MacGregor, served under the board of Presbyterian National Missions in the city of New York.

The two others, Bill Long and Chris Harris, were in Colombia, South America, last summer.

Members of the team will tell of the work they saw in their respective localities, and will show colored transparencies.

Harris, in addition to appearing at the evening worshipservice, will speak at the Baptist Youth Fellowship meeting which convenes at 6 p.m.

New Study Under Way:

New Groups Forming for Study Of Portola Valley Annexation

Subcommittees of an "action committee" studying possibilities of either annexing unincorporated Portola Valley to Woodside or incorporating Portola Valley as a separate city, currently are being formed.

The action committee itself, formed two months ago, has been in touch with officials of Woodside, exchanging information on common problems and their solutions.

Most recently the "action committee" has been joined by an advisory committee which will work with its executive panel, according to Myron Alexander, a member of the action group.

Members of the latter are Ben Coe, Robert Lewis, Harry Conley, William Lane Sr. and Philip Barrett.

These two senior groups will in time be joined by three operating committees: finance, neighborhood and communications committees.

The various committees will charter several meetings, Alexander said,, at which residents of the valley will be given an opportunity to discuss the need for annexation or incorporation, and will have a chance also to see into financial aspects of both plans.

The committees, made up of members of the Portola Valley Association as well as citizens at large, also will review figures gathered by previous pro-annexation and pro-incorporation groups, he added.

Nevin Heister is chairman of the "action committee."

TOOLS MISSING

Tools valued at an estimated $250 Tuesday morning were reported missing from the job site of St. Bede's Church, facing Sand Hill Road, according to a report given police. Golden Gate Electrical Co. of San Francisco reported the loss.

GREASE FIRE

Firemen Tuesday at 12:02 a.m. were called to The 20's, 201 El Camino Real, to extinguish a minor grease fire. There was no damage, they report.

Local Canine Can Make Good At Dog Show

A Menlo Park pooch may crash through social barriers and join the cream of dogdom society on Nov. 18.

On that day, champion canines from all over the nation will be strutting in style at the San Mateo Kennel Club's 59th All Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trials, held annually at the San Mateo County fairgrounds.

But not all the dogs there will be purebreds, for one — "The Bay Area Dog Hero of the Year" — will not be required to present a pedigree to gain admittance. Any dog is eligible for the award.

Any dog owner 18 years old or under living in San Francisco, San Mateo or Santa Clara counties whose dog has, in his eyes, done something heroic in the past year, need only write a nominating letter to have his pet considered for the honor.

Entry letters, addressed to the San Mateo Kennel Club, 1299 Bayshore Highway, Burlingame, must be postmarked before Friday, Nov. 9. The winners will be announced Nov. 14.

Besides the opportunity to mingle with "society," the "Dog Hero" will receive a $50 trophy, and valuable merchandise, including a large supply of dog food. The "Hero's" owner will receive a $15 cash prize. Two other dogs, placing second and third in the contest, will also receive the merchandise and dog food. Their young owners will be awarded $10 and $5 in cash. Every youth who writes a nominating letter will receive passes for himself and his parents.

Wildcats Meet Tough Scots

Hoping to blazes that the Carlmont High Scots are going to start back-sliding after their historic victory of last Saturday night, the Woodside High Wildcats are trying to work themselves back into an epic-making frenzy for thir encounter with the Scots tomorrow night at Terremere Field. Kick-off will be at 8.

It's not easy for coach Paul Braunreiter's battered but amazingly still healthy troops. Despite the fact that they've lost three South Peninsula Athletic League games in a row now, all to rough-and-ready contenders, the Cats have suffered only one disabling injury to a starter, that to halfback Don Pooley (dislocated elbow) three weeks ago.

It is much to be desired around the Woodside campus that the Scots have gotten just a bit cocky or careless since their 22-13 win over Sequoia last Saturday that ended the Cherokees' 33-game streak. The Woodsiders left something of themselves in their 6-0 failure to the same Tribe three weeks back. Perhaps the same hoodoo now pervades the Scots. Somehow a team sometimes is never the same after it has been up against Sequoia; this certainly is the case with the Wildcats who since have dropped 31-0 and 15-6 decisions to Palo Alto and Cubberley, respectively, since then.

The Scots, whom coach Dick Storm called his best-ever team at Carlmont at season's beginning, may be just that. But they too have lost to Cubberley, they by 32-20 although they were the first team in five to score against the league-leading Cougars. The Scots now are 5-1, 3-1 in the SPAL.

Offensively the Scots have to be given the edge. With halfback Andy Sears going around the ends, fullback John Watts up the middle and Chuck Hunt able to throw anywhere, especially to halfback Rick Brown, the Scots have looked like world-beaters in all departments. Sears ran Sequoia wild last week, with practically all of his 92 yards rushing gained when it was needed the most.

Despite its great potential and good show in the pre-league practice games, Woodside's backfield prowess has had little chance to prove what it can do since. Braunnreiter again and again has been pleased with his defensive line's play, but offensively they don't look like the same people. Inexperiencey they are, which gives the edge to the adversary, which in turn doesn't get the holes opened, which in turn means that the runners either have to open their own or don't go anywhere.

With Pooley gone, it's been Steve Crosby or Steve Ford filling in, with halfback Steve Clark and fullback Dick Specht, the two old regulars, doing most of the ball - packing, as they will again tomorrow night.

Unable to run as much as desired, Clark has been turned into a first-class pass receiver for quarterback Bill Welsh, the flinging southpaw who has been holdiong up his end of the Wildcat offense no matter how bad things have gotten. Welsh almost alone carried the offensive fight to Sequoia and Cubberley.

39th YEAR—No. 44 SECOND SECTION

By JOHN CURRY Sports Editor

Until the Rams crossed us up Sunday, the sports editor and classified ad experts had clean sweeps going on last week's Recorder Pigskin Panel. But we're still in search of the season's first perfect score, thanks to the folding of the 49ers. Even at that the sport editor's 23-10 (.696) is no great shakes. So here's what we're doing to liven up the old percentage this time.

SEQUOIA 27, MENLO-ATHERTON 7. The Sequoians still have some of the league's best material despite the loss last week. It'll be the usual overmatch for the Bears, even though thy show signs of awakening.

CARLMONT 21, WOODSIDE 6. It could very well be much closer than this, but Carlmont's momentum and their superiority in the line should be enough to overcome any Wildcat attempt at a comeback after three straight losses.

CUBBERLEY 19, RAVENSWOOD 12. The Cougars, no matter how strong, never have completely crushed Ravenswood, no matter how weak. This time should be no exception, with the Trojans wanting that first SPAL win badly.

HALF MOON BAY 19, MENLO SCHOOL 14. Neither team is having much of a season, but the Acorns' lack of offensive might will hurt them enough that Half Moon Bay will take it.

HARTNELL COLLEGE 36, MENLO COLLEGE 8. We keep calling them this way and Menlo keeps making them close, although Hartnell hasn't been scored on in its last two games and the Oaks will be hard pressed to get this close, from the looks of it. But if their defense holds up, take a touchdown away from Hartnell.

49ers 32, COLTS 24. Don't know why we do it, unless it's because the 49ers are at home . Let's consider last week as having been gotten out of their system.

Bears Eye Way Around Tribe

About the best thing the Menlo-Atherton High football-ing Bears can hope for tomorrow afternoon at Terremere Field is that the Sequoia High Cherokees aren't out for pure red blood. Time for the South Peninsula Athletic League titanic is 2:45, a little earlier now that we're back on standard time.

Having lost to Carlmont 22-13 last week to break the Peninsula's longest win streak at 33 games, the Sequoians under coach Joe Marvin could be very, very angry and determined to get another streak going at the cost of plowing the at-times helpless Bears under.

"We're going to have a bit of a problem with them," according to the M-A coach and master of understatement Art Boettcher.

But leaving emotions aside, the pure mechanics of the thing look from all corners like the Bears are cooked. Outmanned would be the precise term. There's a tailback in Marvin's single wing named Gary Beban who is quick, can pick out holes in the line, and can pass. Then there's wingback David Armstrong, who is quick and even faster. Roger Lutje is the fullback and Doug Curry the blocking back in what is to some still the best backfield in the SPAL.

The Cherokees were a bit down for the Carlmont battle, with the Scots sky-high, but then the Scots were figured for a run for the title, whereas the Bears weren't and aren't.

Boettcher is now down to his No. 5 quarterback, junior Steve arvis, what with Jerry Bowers pulling up with a lame knee in the Bears' 21-13 loss to San Carlos last Friday night. But Jarvis displayed enough potential that the job is now his as long as he can handle it and maybe stop the procession.

The rest of the situation isn't too critical either, with the Bruin offense coming to life against San Carlos for 271 yards to 239 for the Dons and the defense holding well enough when one considers there is only one man — safety Bill Cook — back from last year on that platoon.

Cook and Bob Burrill or Bevan Odenweller will open at the halfbacks tomorrow, with Dick Copenhagen back at the old fullback spot.

What seems to be bothering the Bruin braintrust the most these days though, is that new Sequoia passing attack, which checked in along with Beban after a long absence through Sequoia's Golden Age, dating from the last game of 1958.

It's cross your fingers and hope around M-A. The Bears are 1-3 among their SPAL brethren and 1-4-1 for the season.

Trojans Tackle Cougs

Title-hopeful Cubberley can't afford to look past winless Ravenswood High School in Friday's grid battle at the Cougar field in South Palo Alto.

If Howard Costello's Trojan troops are as "high" for this one as they were for the Palo Alto tussle last time around, the unbeaten Cougars may be in for an interesting afternoon. It starts at 2:45 p.m.

Cougar mentor Len Doster knows that the Trojans want a SPAL victory and want it badly—and he hopes his SPAL title contenders realize this.

"This should be a very interesting game," he said. "We, like Ravenswood, have been consistenly outweighed. They and we have good team speed and good pursuit. The winner will be the team that makes the fewest mistakes."

Cubberley is unbeaten in six starts, indicating they've made very few errors. They hold title to four SPAL victories — 7-0 over Menlo-Atherton, 12-0 over San Carlos, 32-20 over Carlmont, and 15-6 over Woodside.

Palo Alto was unscored upon before the Trojans did it to them last Friday. Cubberley is defensively tough, too. They've given up just 32 points all season.

Doster says he has three starters doubtful for the Friday game — defensive linemen Burke Mitchell and Joe Davis, and offensive tackle Tom Jenkins.

At Ravenswood, the same lineup that gave highly-favored Palo Alto all they could handle will be ready to meet the Cougars, coach Howard Costello indicated.

The hard-driving Trojans dominated the statistics, but the Vikings had the scores and that is what counts.

A TREMENDOUS . . .
. . . catch by Menlo College end Harry Kellogg (80) of a 26-yard pass from Dick Hayes resulted in the first Menlo touchdown in the Oaks' Homecoming game with Cabrillo Saturday at Menlo. The ball went flying between Cabrillo's leaping Ed Hayes (31) and an unidentified defender, with all three airborne objects reaching Kellogg at almost the same time. Cabrillo finally won 27-22.

Loss of QB Looks Bad:

Hartnell Rates Over Oaks

The week's best local candidate for a solid shellacking this Monday turned out to be the Menlo College Oaks footballers, who tomorrow play host to the powerful Hartnell College of Salinas in a 2 p.m. Coast Conference slugout at the Menlo field on Alejandra Avenue.

The Oaks appeared to be underdogs even before that, of course, in view of their 2-3 record, 1-1 in the Conference and strengthened by a valiant but losing 27-22 effort to visiting Cabrillo College from Aptos last Saturday at Menlo.

But the crusher came this week for the Oaks with the loss of starting quarterback Dick Hayes, one of coach Bo Molenda's precious few sophomore veterans. Hayes will be gone for two weeks because of scholastic grades. With him goes Menlo's passing game, a good share of its running game and a lot of football savvy that isn't going to be replaced easily.

Molenda said he'll go with frosh QB Bill Werner, a graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School and the Oaks' punter and a defensive safetyman most of the season. Not so quick or experienced as Hayes, Werner nevertheless "is who we'll have to go with," Molenda said.

Hayes' departure will be good news to Hartnell coach Argust Smith, whose club has compiled a 5-1 record largely on the abilities of its defensive platoon, most of which also doubles as the offensive starters. The Panthers are unbeaten and unscored on in two CCJC games — 42-0 over Vallejo and 39-0 over San Benito. Menlo beat San Benito two weeks ago 22-20.

Center Lou Zinani and end Gary Plumlee are the only two vets among the Panther starters, but there are many others from last year who didn't start. Defensively some of the standouts have been linebacker Larry Palma and guard George Comeau. Gary Grissom, a fast-developing quarterback who completed four of five against San Benito last week, guides the Panther split-T.

NO SNAP

Cabrillo found the Oaks a tough nut to crack Saturday, with the final winning touchdown coming with 12:20 left in the game on a double reverse run of 29 yards by end Harold Bounds.

It was Bounds who also scored the first Cabrillo TD, on an eight-yard pass from Joe Pappas that tied the score at 8-8 in the first period. The lead changed hands three time after that in a seesaw battle that featured primarily offense and some pretty sorry defense.

End Harry Kellogg took two touchdown passes from Hayes, for 26 and 47 yards. Menlo tackle Doug Schoenfeld scored another, recovering a Frank Seman fumble in the Cabrillo end zone after a 58-yard Werner punt had put the Seahawks in the hole at their own six.

Pappas kept the Seahawks in it, however, with an 11-yard pass to Jim Yahiro that gave Cabrillo a 14-6 halftime bulge. Tex McKeown hit Dick Scotter with a 13-yarder for another touchdown later in the third just before Menlo's final comeback.

The Water Polo Scene:

M-A Again Sits Alone at the Top of the Heap

Menlo-Atherton High's powerful varsity water poloists are the only unbeatens left in the South Peninsula Athletic League after disposing of contending Palo Alto Tuesday 10-5 at the Paly pool.

The Bears entertain Sequoia in SPAL action today, with San Carlos at Woodside and Carlmont at Palo Alto. Varsity matches begin at 3:30 p.m., with the frosh-soph games to follow. San Carlos is at M-A and Woodside at Sequoia in next Tuesday's season-closers for the SPAL teams.

Coach Bob Gaughran's Bears left little doubt about who was boss Tuesday. They led only 4-2 going into the final quarter but exploded with Jim MacKenzie hitting three of his match-high six goals. Greg Buckingham got two to place second in M-A scoring.

The Bears frosh-sophs laid it on even heavier, lambasting Paly 18-4. Dick Roth hit nine for the Bruins, taking 26 shots to do it. Woodside did about the same to Ravenswood 20-9 Tuesday. Tiny frosh reserve Jim Coonan came off the bench to lead Woodside with six goals, with nine of the winners scoring at least once. Mike Springs led Ravenswood with four.

Ravenswood took its third junior varsity tilt in a row from Woodside 11-9, however, with Vince Sutton leading the way with seven goals. Skip Cashin, who played only one quarter, paced Woodside with four.

In other SPAL action Tuesday, San Carlos took two from Calmont, winning the varsity match 17-10 and the frosh-soph 13-4.

It took a pair of overtimes to do it, but Woodside came through to dunk Carlmont last Thursday at the Woodside pool 6-3. Gary Fitschen tied it up late in the final regulation period and Al Kamada put the Wildcats ahead in the first overtime. Fitschen and Jay Voss hit goals for Woodside in the second extra period.

The Woodside frosh-sophs also won, 11-5 over Carlmont. Greg Meacham got five to pace the winners. Sequoia beat Ravenswood 26-5, Springs again leading the losers with four.

MENLO BOOTERS WIN

Menlo College's soccer team had a rough time with Pacific College of Fresno last week but won 4-3 in the last five minutes on two goals by Karl Buder. One was a penalty kick. Buder also got an assist in Menlo's third goal in the dying minutes. The score was 1-1 going into the final five minutes. Menlo's next game is Nov. 10 against Diablo Valley College at Menlo. The locals now are 1-4 for the season.

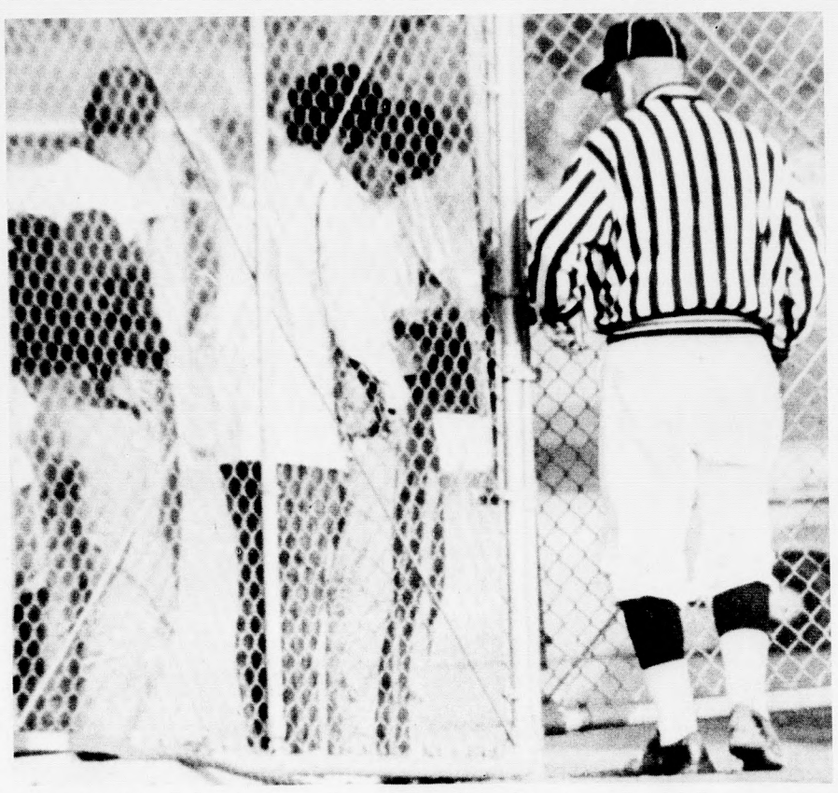

Menlo JVs Go After Next Victory

Menlo School's junior varsity footballers meet Half Moon Bay High's JVs today at the Menlo field looking for their fourth victory of the season. Gametime is 3:15 p.m.

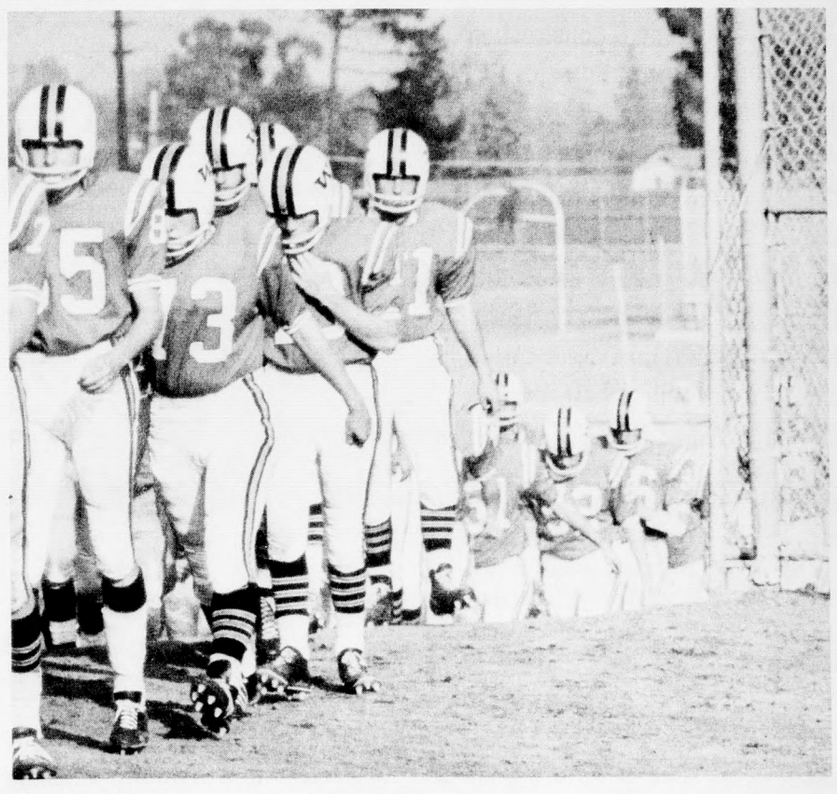

The junior Acorns mopped up Lick-Wilmerding High of San Francisco last Thursday 21-6 at the Menlo turf, spotting the visitors an early touchdown and taking in from there.

Quarterback Jock Purnell scored all three Menlo TDs, the first in the second quarter on a 30-yard keeper run after a pass interception. Another interception set up another Menlo TD in the third period. Tim Boverman passed 11 yards to Purnell for that one.

Then, on the last play of the game, Purnell broke away for an 84-yard gallop and the final sixer. Eric Beale ran in all three point-afters.

A PROBLEM . . .
. . . arose at halftime of the Woodside-Cubberley high school football game Friday at Woodside when two Cubberley students chained and locked the gate the Woodside team had to use to get back to the field from the locker room. In left photo, one of the game officials and spectators ponder what should be done. Shortly after, Woodside vice-principal Francis G. Hutchinson (left in center photo) arrived with school custodian Bill Johnson (center), who brought with him a heavy chain cutter and went to work amidst the onlookers. Their efforts prevailed when the chain gave way and the gate was opened, allowing the Woodside team to come back onto the field (right photo). This had happened the week before at the Cubberley-Carlmont game at Woodside, too, except that then there was no one to open the gate so the Carlmont team had to get back to the field through the south stands.

'Smoke' Opens Tonight At Comedia

Tennessee Williams' poetic drama "Summer and Smoke" will open tonight at the Comedia Theater, 1300 El Camino Real in Menlo Park, for a six week run. The early Williams play will be performed every Thursday night at 8:30. It will join the current Comedia repertory which includes "Carousel" and "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," two musical comedies, and Strindberg's drama, "The Father."

"Summer and Smoke" is being directed by former New York Actor's Studio student, Erich Faust. Appearing in the cast are Carolyn Davis in the role of Alma, Lanny Lynch as Dr. John, Atha Hillback as Mrs. Winemiller, Dorothy Wyman as Mrs. Bassett, Elizabeth Rettig as Rosa Gonzales, Carole Warren as Nelli Elwell, Richard Anton as Roger Doremus, Joe Brusati as Dr. Winemiller, James Tuttle as Dr. Buchanan and Jerry Grant as the young man.

Also in the cast of 15 are Katherin Leavelle as Alma as a child and Hal Dillehunt as Dr. John as a child; Margaret Streets plays the part of Rosemary, John Cullen takes two roles, Vernon and Dusty, and Ann Silkie plays a young girl.

Further information about the production may be obtained by calling DA 6-6560 from 2-5 and 7-9 p.m. daily.

Wilson to Address Fuchsia Meeting

Next regular meeting of the Santa Clara Valley Branch of the American Fuchsia Society will be held Tuesday evening at 8 at the South Palo Alto Library, 2300 Wellesley St. in Palo Alto.

Guest speaker will be Albert Wilson, well-known author and radio and television garden commenator. His subject Tuesday will be "Nurseryman's Plants in the California Design." Tom Oliver also will speak on a timely subject, "Soil Preparation for Spring Planting."

The meeting is open to the public and admission is free.

Child's Plays Resume Soon

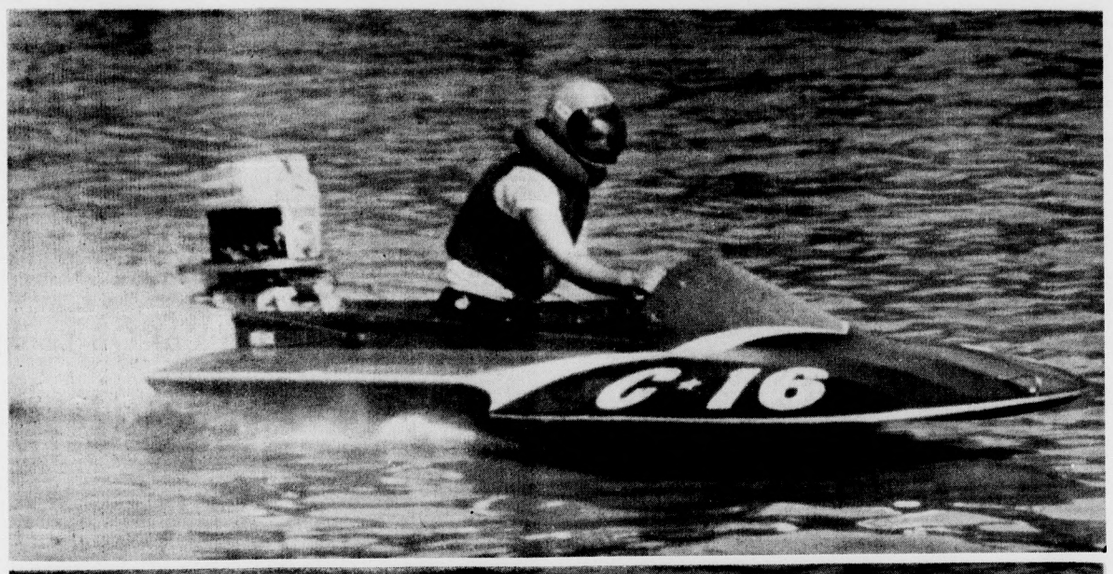

Comedia Children's Theater will reopen at the Comedia Theater, 1300 El Camino Real in Menlo Park on Sunday, Nov. 18 at 2:30 p.m. The Children's Theater had closed for a period of three months at Comedia, the first time in over two years that a children's play has not been presented continuously the year around.

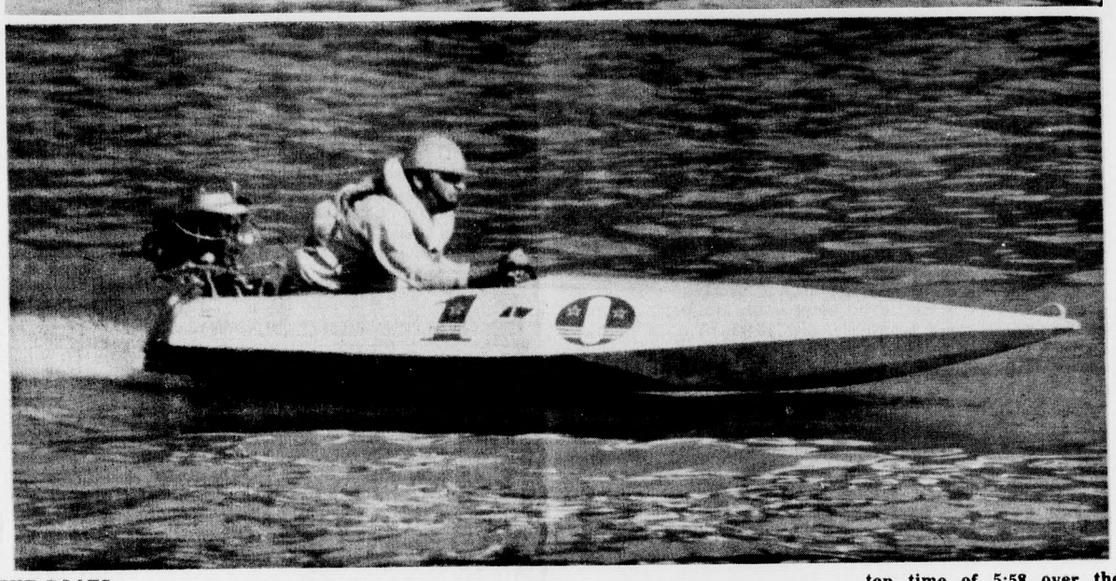

King Hall, former managing director of the Children's Theater, and Peter Kump, producer for Comedia, have negotiated a new contract and Hall will open his newest production, a musical ballet version of "Pinocchio." Under the new policy there will be smaller casts of professional and semi-professional actors.

The Comedia production of "Pinocchio" opens Nov. 10 in Redwood City, will play Nov. 11 in Los Gatos and on Nov. 17 in Belmont before opening in Menlo Park for local audiences.

MENLO CUBS WIN

Menlo School Cub "A" team came out 21-0 victors over Jordan Junior High of Palo Alto last week. Bob Miller, Tom Felix and Bruce Lyon scored touchdowns for the Cubs, with Brandt Birkholm running for a conversion. There also was a safety. Both the Cub "A" and "B" teams met Terman Junior High yesterday.

THE BOATS . . .

. . . raced Sunday at Searsville Lake, under sponsorship of the East Bay Boat Club, with the runabouts of some classes getting up over 70 miles per hour. The weather was warm and clear, the water was fairly smooth and the cantankerous machinery behaved itself fairly well, with few breakdowns out in the middle of the lake. In top photo, two class D runabouts take the south turn, with Al Crafve in 328-O and Hale Yeary in 5-O leaning hard around the marker buoy (extreme right). Mal Colby in C-16 (middle photo) is shown roaring over the course enroute to a victory in the class C hydroplane heats, winning both heats with a best time of 4:54.5. Another winner was Lyle Isbell in the class B runabouts in his 1-O (lower photo), who posted a top time of 5:58 over the course. The duck, (below, right), had the best seat of anybody but showed the least interest, although he and his friends did complain about the turbulent water caused by the boats taking the turns.

Comedia's Sixth Season:

But This One Will Be Different

Comedia Repertory Company has opened its sixth season with a full repertory of musical comedies and drama, but this season will differ from previous seasons in several ways. The Company is not issuing season tickets this year, nor is it announcing its season in advance.

With plans for a brand new theater for the company at Town & Country Village in Palo Alto and not yet knowing the exact date that they will be moving in, producer Peter Kump has decided to keep the season flexible. Comedia is planning to move in the first half of 1963, which would disrupt the current season.

Comedia will continue its current policy of two different musical comedies, one on Friday evenings and the other on Saturday evenings, together with a drama on Thursday evening at reduced prices, and the free presentations of classical and original plays on Mondays. The Children's Theater will resume production in November.

Rodgers & Hammerstein's "Carousel" officially opened the 1962-63 season and plays on Friday evenings, with Anita Loos' 1920's musical "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" on Saturdays. Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke" plays on Thursday evenings and August Strindberg's "The Father" is presented on Mondays. All performances begin at 8:30 p.m.

L-W Kept Them Winless:

Acorns Travel to Half Moon Bay Saturday

Menlo School's plunging Acorns must get something going soon before the current football season turns into any more of a disaster than it is already. Coach Tom Barrie's injury-racked blue and whites lost their third in as many attempts, all in Bay Counties Athletic League play, Saturday, 20-0 to Lick-Wilmerding High of San Francisco at the Menlo turf.

Their luck might change against Half Moon Bay this Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Half Moon Bay field. The game was changed from its original Friday date. The Cougars haven't been doing too well either.

Lick struck early and hard last Saturday to ruin the Menlo Homecoming gathering, beating the three-time BCAL champion Acorns for the first time since 1958.

Dave Rohlfs went 65 yards on a punt runback for a touchdown in the first two minutes of the game and the Tigers drove right in for another on their first offensive series. Keith Reynolds got the Tigers their final score in the fourth quarter on a 25-yard run.

The Acorns never came close to the Lick end zone. They gained 110 yards, 97 on the ground, to Lick's 237, 206 running. Linebacker Mike Washko did an outstanding job for the Acorns on defense, Barrie said.

Offensively it was halfback Dave Draper leading Menlo with 59 yards rushing. Rohlfs carried 15 times for 113 yards for the Tigers.

Menlo Lions Meet Millbrae Sunday Just for Scrimmage

With their offense suddenly springing very much to life, the Menlo Park Blues of the Sequoia Lions Football League stretched their season record to 4-1-1 Sunday at Woodside High, belting San Carlos for the this year 34-20. This was the Blues' second win over the San Carlans this year, the first a 20-0 shutout last month.

Coach Wayne Bell's boys take something of a break from full-scale battle this Sunday, playing sort of a divided game with the Millbrae Lions. The local first string will meet the Millbrae Lions for one half, after which the Menlo second string will entertain the Millbrae Cubs. The "games" start at noon.

League-leading Redwood City takes on East Palo Alto, its closest rival, in the 1:30 p.m. afterpiece. East Paly beat the San Francisco Mariners in the City Sunday 32-6 in a non-league encounter.

Halfback Bob Young and quarterback Bill McMonigle either collaborated or took turns in providing the fireworks for Menlo against the defense-poor San Carlos redshirts.

Young scored two of the Menlo touchdowns, the first in the opening period on a 44-yard run. Early in the third, McMonigle uncorked a pass to Young on a 45-yard play that also ended in the San Carlos end zone.

But McMonigle wasn't through yet. Later in the third he hit Mike Beall with a 48-yard aerial that got six points for the Menlos. McMonigle threw only three passes all day, but completed all three for 113 yards.

Nick Vlasoff and Randy Demeter got the other two Menlo TDs, Vlasoff on a one-yard plunge in the second quarter and Demeter on a nine-yard run in the fourth, both capping long drives. Vlasoff scored three points-after for the day, including the Blues' first kicked one of the season.

Menlo was ahead 13-0 at the half, with San Carlos finally coming to life to trade TD for TD most of the way after. Rich Sugars chalked up two of them on 25 and seven-yard passes from Tom Wilson and Chris Williams went over from the four for the other.

Menlo amassed 148 yards rushing, with Young gathering 48. Menlo's offensive total was 261 yards to San Carlos' 199, 179 rushing. Williams picked up 85 of these.

Bell praised the work of both the offensive and defensive units. John Newton, Ruben Salas and Beall did especially well defensively.

RESTAURANT and NIGHT CLUB

NIGHT BEAT

By Monsieur Bonnet

Jo Ryder at The Embers . . .

Miss Jo Ryder now appearing at one of the brightest new spots on the peninsula, the "EMBERS" Lounge, Redwood City. Miss Ryder, a top flight vocalist, leaves you wanting more, Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday, with two shows nightly. She calls on vast experience, having appeared on many local television shows and night club engagements. Miss Ryder will soon appear on Steve Allen's Late Night Frolics, which reflects the quality of her performance.

She is just part of the great entertainment co-owners DON ZIRILLI and FRANK McMAHON book at their club "EMBERS."

The November nights are misty; as I make my rounds from the "Say When" club in Daly City to the banjo music of "Woodys' 23 Skid-do Club" in Mountain View. It's a large beat. Over 250 restaurants, 500 cocktail lounges, 20 good night clubs, in an area of 214,000 people.

The world of the night rarely resembles the world of the day.

The world of night is a world of excitement, laughter, loud music, reflections of mood and sound.

It is a world of beautiful color, headlights in the darkness, neon signs, smoked filled rooms, brass horns . . . beer and peanuts, steak and champagne . . . thirty cents in the Red Rabbit automatic in Menlo Park. A quiet cocktail, low music, a fireplace.

It is all things to all people. The noisy crowds . . . the quiet places, dancing, good food, a funny floor show . . . a pretty face . . . but it is all here . . . here on this peninsula with more variety and selection, more choice of good food and entertainment, than most of the principle cities of the world.

A WAYWARD . . . lateral pass caused no end of confusion and trouble for the Cubberley High Cougars Friday at Woodside, with the pitchout from Cougar quarterback Tom Kmetovic (white 17) sailing well over the head of halfback Tom Everest (20). Ball is in upper center of photo. Identifiable Woodsiders in on the play were Bob Watson (far left), Harvey Shank (82), Rich Saunders (87) and Fred Piepers (50). Cubberley won 15-6 finally.

Cats Can't Contain Cubberly

Kicking to the other team can be a very dangerous proposition. Ask the Woodside High Wildcats, who were run over Friday by runbacks of two punts that set up the touchdowns that beat them during Cubberley's 15-6 victory at Woodside's field. This was the third straight South Peninsula Athletic League setback for the Cats.

The unbeaten Cougars didn't have everything their way, though. The Woodside defense kept them honest, allowing them only one sustained drive all afternoon, that ending in a field goal.

But the Wildcats' own lack of offensive prowess proved to be all the Cougars needed. The Cubberley defense held the Cats to minus 14 yards rushing for the day. Quarterback Bill Welsh completed 12 of 19 pass attempts for 78 yards to save something for the Cats in the statistics column, including a five-yarder to Bob Watson that got the Woodsiders their touchdown in the fourth quarter.

The Cougs started off in the first period with their punt-return antics. Deep man Fred Morse took a Steve Clark kick at the Cougar 30, handed off the ball to John Coffron who went back to the 25 and handed off in turn to Tom Everest. The play finally ended at the Woodside nine with Everest being hauled down by Steve Crosby.

Three plays later Cubberley was at the two, from where quarterback Tom Kmetovic pitched out to John Nakata, who went around the end untouched and it was Cubberley 6-0.

It was 12-0 in the second period after Clark punted again, this time to the Cubberley nine and to Morse again. Morse faked the reverse this time, but the overly wary Wildcats had their attention hopelessly divided by the maneuver a mistake they couldn't rectify until Morse was 65 more yards downfield with Clark catching him at the Cat 26.

Kmetovic passed for nine yards and on the next play bolted through tackle for three before lateraling to Morse, who outraced baffled Woodside defenders over the goal line.

After halftime the Cougars got going again, this drive going 83 yards before a personal foul penalty stalled it and left the ball at the Woodside eight with fourth down. Kmetovic did the honors, kicking the field goal from the 15.

It was in the fourth before coach Paul Braunreiter's Cats could give Welsh some pass protection. After Irwin Cameron jumped on a Cubberley fumble, Welsh hit four straight completions during the 38-yard march and the touch down.

Bad luck hit the Cats after that, with a fumble killing another opportunity at the Cougar 31 and an interception wiping out their last chance at the visitors' 22.

In all, coach Len Doster's Cougars racked up 165 yards total offense, 156 on the ground. But they out-first downed the Cats only 11-9 and had seven penalties marched off (73 yards) to the Cats' one (21 yards).

Trojans Score, But Lose to Palo Alto

The men of Troy played their finest football of the year, only to have a fumble, blocked punt and an errant pass from center lead to Palo Alto tallies.

And the standout Trojan defender, once again, was Carl Lane. The 170-pound middle guard was a darting, agile player who always seemed to be in the path of the Paly ball carriers.

Palo Alto, unbeaten, untied and unscored upon, looked flatter than last Tuesday's flapjacks as Ravenswood uncorked a scoring drive the first time they had the ball.

Tailback Lou Ciaruffoli alternated with Ron Peres in directing the hard-hitting attack-spiced by short passes to soph end Mel Easley and senior halfback Milky Johnson. Lou carried the ball for several key gains.

A pass aimed for end Dick Dickerson was a bit high and incomplete.

The next play, a pass intended for Milky Johnson, was a dandy. Johnson leaped high with two Viking defenders and tipped the ball. Right behind them was Trojan halfback Bobby Washington, who batted the ball as he fell off-balance. He made a final stab while landing on his stomach and collected the pigskin for the score. Ciaruffoli's plunge for the PAT was stopped and Troy led 6-0.

That's the way it remained until shortly before halftime when a Ravenswood fumble was collected by Bill Lerch.

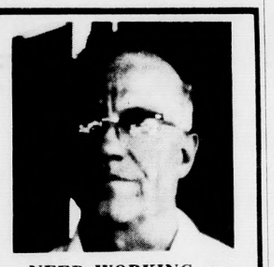

The Vikings showed some life here, probing at the left side of the Trojan line and finding room to run. Tim Barnes and aLrry Hamilton blasted down to scoring country. Barnes covered the final six with 55 seconds left. Then he ran the conversion in for a 7-6 lead.

A few moments later in the fourth period, a 15-yard penalty stalled the Trojans and Ban attempted a kick tro mhis own 25. Heany got through to block it and teammate Paul Forse was right there to take the ricochet and romp into the end zone. Beahrs' running conversion made it 14-6.

After a punt exchange, Ravenswood had the ball at the Troy 27 with only a few moments left in the contest. On the second play of the series, a snap from center bounced off Ciaruffoli's shoulder and wound up in the grasp of Jeff Sanders of Paly at the 16.

Beahrs collected 10 yards, then Lane stopped Eddie Hayes with one gained. But Lerch pitched out to Hayes on the next play and he went the final five around his own left end with just 25 seconds left to play. The conversion failed and the final score was 20-6.

Paly had the touchdowns and Ravenswood had the statistics. The Trojans gained 98 yards running and 71 through the air for a total of 169. Paly had 144 on the ground and nothing in the way of aerial gains.

San Carlans Bounce By M-A Bears 21-13

It seemed like the Menlo-Atherton High Bears and the San Carlos High Dons were spending most of their time in or near each other's end zones all night Friday at Terremere Field. But football rules gave the Dons credit for three completed trips to only two for the Bears, so San Carlos got its first South Peninsula Athletic League victory in four tries, 21-13 over M-A.

Strangely, for them, the Bears of coach Art Boettcher put up a real good offensive effort, cutting up the Dons for 225 yards on the ground and surprising the devil out of everybody with a six-for-13 passing game for 46 yards. Without a long search through the files, it would appear that this is the best passing game the Bears have had in at least three years.

But too, the difference in how and when the yardage was made turned out to be hard-charging San Carlos fullback Bill Laich. There wasn't any stopping him. He charged through the M- Atackles time and again, using that route to pick up most of his 127 yards.

San Carlos went 83 yards in the first quarter to go ahead. With Jim Basin kicking three good placements, M-A never caught up, although the Bears came close. Laich's 33-yard gallop was the biggest single piece of the march, with the selfsame fullback going eight yards off left tackle for the touchdown.

M-A came right back to go 68 yards in nine plays, with Bob Burrill and Bill Cook doing most of the foot-slogging. Halfback Bevan Odenweller plowed over from the three, the first of his two TDs for the night. Bruce Morningstar's placement was wide.

Don quarterback Marty Hall then took the whiteshirts on another jaunt of 79 yards, picking up 24 himself on a rollout and letting Laich do the work when the Dons really needed the yards.

They got them, with Hall going in in a sneak from the M-A one. Basin's kick was good, but a holding penalty put the ball back to the 17. From the 25 Basin kicked again and again it was good, but barely.

That last Don drive also cost the Bears the services of starting quarterback Jerry Bowers, who injured a knee. But Bear coach Art Boettcher reached into his reserves and came up with Steve Jarvis, a young man who had fumbled earlier in the season on the only play he'd been in at quarterback.

But Jarvis showed he'd learned his lessons well. Under his direction the Bears went 80 yards in the third quarter in 11 plays. Burrill's 15-yard run set it up at the Don two and Odwenweller went over. Morningstar's kick was good and it was 14-13.

The Dons marched it right back, however, with Laich capping the 62-yard drive by driving the last nine through tackle and a swarm of failing hands and arms to score.

Here's where the Bears ran out of breaks and time all at once. A Jim Yancey-to-Cliff Gamble pass for 20 yards into the end zone was caught, but Gamble jumped for it and landed out of the back of the end zone, so no six points with just a few seconds left. Jarvis tried to sneak in from the one, but fumbled on the way and had to stop and recover it. The gun went off with the Bears still trying to let lined up for a quick play with no time outs left.

The San Carlans gained 199 yards rushing and 40 passing for a 239 offensive total. Burrill's 113 yards led the Bear ushers. M-A's offensive total was 271 yards.

Rec Gridders Get Season Going in Earnest

Menlo Park Recreation Department's fifth and sixth grade playground football leagues begin the chase this week, with the seventh and eighth graders going into their second week of action Saturday.

The sixth grade opened yesterday and the fifth grade begins tomorrow, with games scattered around the various school playgrounds after school.

The two upper grades play all their games at Nealon Park on Middle Ave. with games at 9, 9:45 and 10:30 a.m. for each grade, with the eighth also playing at 11:15.

This week's seventh grade schedule: Hillview vs. Oak Knoll, 9; Encinal 2 vs. Oak Knoll 1, 9:45; Encinal 1 vs. La Entrada 1, 10:30. La Entrada 2 has a bye.

The eighth grade schedule: La Entrada 2 vs. Oak Knoll 1, 9; La Entrada 3 vs. Oak Knoll 2, 9:45; Encinal 2 vs. Hillview 2, 10:30; Encinal 1 vs. Hillview 1, 11:15.

Woodside Frosh Gridders Finish

Woodside High's freshman football team tied for the second time this season last week, drawing with Carlmont High 13-13. Bill LeBlanc scored in the last minute to give the Wildcats the tie. A Chad Lincoln-to-Jamie Koblick pass got the Woodsiders their other touchdown.

Woodside's other tie was a scoreless affair with Menlo-Atherton. Both Woodside finished its season yesterday afternoon against Sequoia.

THIS DOGPATCH . . . . . family portrait leaves no doubt that Barbara Herold as Mammy Yokum has the upper hand in this scene from the Menlo Players Guild's forthcoming production of the musical "Li'l Abner." Dick Barnett, in the title role, is at left and Bill Simpson as Pappy is at right. The musical opens next Friday night at Burgess Theater.

A Musical:

'Li'l Abner' Starts New Season For Menlo Players Guild

Finishing touches are being applied to the Menlo Players Guild's production of "Lil' Abner," the musical opening a four-week run at Burgess Theater in Menlo Park Civic Center tomorrow.

The show has a total of 20 scenes, with a cast of 45 singers, dancers and actors — all of which has created major problems for the technical staff. However, the wardrobe group, under the direction of Mrs. Beverly Goettelman, has designed a variety of authentic Dogpatch-style costumes guaranteed not to disappoint the readers of Al Capp's famous comic strip.

Obtaining some of the stage properties required for the production has taken on the proportions of a gigantic scavenger hunt. Among the more bizzare articles are a live pig, a totem pole, a Confederate flag and a horse collar.

Music director Helen Graves has integrated the many songs into the basic plot, which revolves around the efforts of the Yokum family to save their beloved Dogpatch from extinction. Among the more familiar numbers, with lyrics by Johnny Mercer, are "Jubilation T. Cornpone," "Namely You," "I'm Past My Prime," and "The Country's in the Very Best of Hands."

Although dancers appear throughout the show, the high point of the first act is the Sadie Hawkins Day Ballet, which was created expressly for the Menlo Players production by choreographer Rose Ann Saylor. The entire production is under the direction of Donald Funk, assisted by technical director Dan Clark.

The leading roles of Lil' Abner and Daisy Mae will be portrayed by Dick Barnett and Stephanie, Jenkins. Both are newcomers to the Menlo Players, but have had extensive experience elsewhere.

Other major parts will be done by Barbara Herold and Bill Simpson as Mammy and Pappy Yokum, Gil Murray as Senator Jack S. Phogbound, Walt Wiebenson as Marryin' Sam, Dan Brown as Mayor Dawgmeat and David Nave as Earthquake McGoon.

Donald Grace and Lynn Boatsman as General Bullmoose and Appassionata von Climax, are joined by Joe Hogan as Evil Eye Fleegle to provide the villainous plots against the Dogpatchers.

Further details or advance reservations may be obtained by calling DA 2-8016 or DA 4-2120.

Woodside Tied For F-S Gridiron Lead

Woodside and Menlo-Atherton high schools' frosh-soph football teams both draw tough cookies in today's South Peninsula Athletic League action, with Woodside going to Carlmont and Sequoia coming down to M-A. Woodside, Carlmont and Sequoia are tied for the league lead with 3-1 records. M-A is 2-2.

The two tailenders, Ravenswood and Cubberley, meet at Cubberley, with the Ravenswooders having a chance to climb into a tie for seventh place. San Carlos is at Palo Alto in the other contest. All start at 3 p.m.

Menlo-Atherton blew a good chance to gain a tie for first last Thursday, bowing to San Carlos 14-13 on a fourth-quarter touchdown. Woodside took Cubberley apart 27-6, Palo Alto bombed Ravenswood and Sequoia surprised previously unbeaten Carlmont 19-0.

M-A punted on first down the first three times it had the ball, with the San Carlans going back with the ball for a touchdown after one, with Steve Yaeger going over from the one. The first of Ralph Pina's two good placements went through.

M-A got it back a little later when Bert Warden intercepted a Yeager pass and went 45 yards with it. Danny Gibson ran in the PAT. Gibson ran three yards for the other Bear touchdown in the second quarter but the extra point try failed. Bob Varrelman scored from a yard out for the winners in the fourth and Pina won it with his boot.

Fullback Frank Boggs unloaded all over Cubberley for the Wildcats. He scored two touchdowns himself, on runs of three and five yards and passed to quarterback Jim Curtice for another. Paul Hanson scored the other Wildcat TD on a 45-yard pass from Vic Musy. Boggs went in with two extra points and Cris Courter one.

Bob Davis' three-yard run produced Cubberley's only TD, that in the second quarter.

Quarterback Mike Moreno led Paly over Ravenswood with three touchdowns on runs of 54, six and one yards. Reserves played most of the second half for the Vikes, who still ran up a 232-14 edge in offensive yardage.

The C & D Cage Wars:

Both Ravenswood Teams Fall Down; M-A Leads D Loop

Menlo-Atherton High's unbeaten class D basketball team has a good chance to stay that way in today's South Peninsula Athletic League action, playing host to Sequoia (1-4) in the feature SPAL game of the day. The C game follows. In other C and D games today, San Carlos is at Woodside, Cubberley is at Ravenswood and Carlmont visits Palo Alto. D games start at 3:15 p.m. with C games afterward, except at Ravenswood where the C game goes first. The regular season ends next Tuesday.

Don Oliver pumped in ten of his game-high 14 points in the first quarter and sat out two more quarters with three fouls as he sparked the M-A Ds over Palo Alto 44-26 Tuesday. Al Klein added 13 and Rod Payne eight for M-A, with Joe Humasti pacing Paly with 12.

Paly took the C game handily 44-26 to keep the M-A Cs winless. Rudy Cambra poured in 19 points for the winners, with Mike Anderson leading M-A with 16.

Woodside turned in the biggest surprise of the day Tuesday, taking a pair from Ravenswood. This was the first time the Ravenswood Ds have ever had a losing record this far along in the season. The Woodside Ds were led by Bob Fairbank with 11 points and Hap Wotila with 10 in their 34-20 rout. Otis Harrison got eight for the losers, who were plagued by ball-handling mistakes and were shut out in the third quarter.

The Woodsiders took the C game 39-37, holding off a last-quarter Ravenswood rally. Les Pelio's two free throws made the difference. The losers' Ernie Bryant led scorers with 19 points, with Bruce Leahy topping Woodside with 18.

Other Tuesday C games saw Carlmont stay unbeaten, 33-29 over San Carlos and Sequoia win over Cubberley 58-56 in overtime. San Carlos beat Carlmont 33-26 and Cubberley won its first of the year, 33-29 over Sequoia in the D games.

Last Thursday's C games had co-leaders Carlmont and Palo Alto winning by 30-29 scores, Paly over San Carlos and Carlmont over Woodside. Dan Cicero's free throw won for Carlmont. Leahy and Fred Karcher led the Woodside five with nine points apiece.

Bruce Fein sank 26 to lead Cubberley past M-A 45-38. Anderson netted 18 in the loss. Sequoia bombed Ravenswood 58-42, with Jim Trujillo sinking 21 for the Tribe and Bryant 12 for the Trojans.

M-A took Cubberley to town 33-11 in D action, with Oliver putting in 15. Woodside beat Carlmont 34-22, despite Carlmont's Larry Tredway leading scorers with 15 points. Ravenswood eased by Sequoia 38-35, Harrison putting in 20 points. Palo Alto dumped San Carlos 28-24 in the other game.

Alpine Netters Up Record to 18-1

Alpine Hills Tennis and Swimming Club's "C" tennis team defeated the Golden Gate team at Golden Gate Park in San Francisco Sunday 8-1 in Northern California Lawn Tennis Association interclub competition. With two more encounters to go before the league windup, Alpine's record is 18 matches won and only one defeat. Sunday's results:

SINGLES

Jack Tunnell (A) def. Jack Lyons (G) 6-0, 6-1; Cal Cory (A) def. Art Generaux (G) 6-2, 6-1; Art Haake (A) def. Huel Washington (G) 6-0, 6-0; Joe Futernick (A) def. Richard Quinn (G) 6-2, 6-1; Don Dellara (G) def. Gerry Schloss (A) 6-3, 4-6, 7-5; Sam Backus (A) def. William Drydale (G) 9-7, 5-7, 6-4.

DOUBLES

COMING OUT . . . . . with a throw to Fred Karcher (32), Woodside's Bruce Leahy (50) attempted to set up a play in Thursday's class C basketball game with Carlmont at the Woodside gym. Carlmont won 30-29 in the end.

To answer your questions about

PENSIONS for the SELF-EMPLOYED

The Bank of California offers a free booklet outlining how self-employed professional and business men may benefit from the new "Keogh Bill". It explains how you may effect substantial tax savings while building a retirement program. Although this law does not take effect until 1963, there is a considerable amount of information you should have now if you are interested in this new pension plan law.

A copy of the booklet, "Pensions for the Self-Employed", is yours for the asking by visiting or writing The Bank of California.

Peninsula Volunteers Take the Shirts off Their Backs . . .

. . . costumes or clothing members planned to donate to Turnabout Shop—the Peninsula Volunteers' main source of income—were a must Saturday night at the Menlo Circus Club. Becky Glenn (at left) came as a slave girl, perhaps depicting devotion to PV projects. Pictured above as sad sacks after going through their wardrobes are John Hanna, Mrs. Al Fisher and Al Fisher. Running an era gamut are Mrs. Ernest D. Hazeltine, Albert T. Spaulding and Mrs. Spaulding. Last but not least as story book characters are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil West. Wearing a more conventional embroidered black cocktail dress which she planned for Turnabout racks, Mrs. R. W. Shackelford, who is this year's re-sell-it shop chairman, was delighted with the loot. PV's, accustomed to good performance, are elated with Turnabout's success under Mrs. Shackelford's supervision. Mrs. James Harris was chairman of the "Shirt Off Your Back Party," a revival of a PV tradition. Judging by the response, it will be continued next year. —Staff photos

Valley Schools:

PTA Explains Money Use

PTA membership drives are going on throughout elementary and high schools in this area and others.

The Portola School District PTA has chosen to outline the pigeon holes into which PTA money is funneled as part of their program to urge participation among parents whose children attend the three elementary schools in the district.

It points out that PTA money purchased blackout curtains for classrooms to aid in visual education; it buys books, Christmas trees and ornaments for Christmas programs, and it buys cookies for blood bank time.

It buys refreshments for KO Polio workers; curtains for the multi-use room at Portola School were a gift from the PTA, as was the landscaping. Funds were allocated for a rug and a number of paint smocks for the kindergarten at Corte Madera. The Portola School teachers' room will be furnished by the PTA. Much of the physical education equipment and a number of coffee pots used in various parts of the school are PTA donations. A typewriter was a PTA gift.

Previous to 1961, the summer recreation programs were PTA sponsored. It is now a school project due to rapid growth of the district. Each year a partial scholarship is given to a needy student in the district and a donation is made toward a state scholarship, both funds on the college level.

SU Dames Meet Tonight

Stanford Dames will meet this evening at the Women's Club House, upper lounge, on the campus, at 8 o'clock.

Bridge play is the order of business for the evening. Teachers will be provided for beginners.

All wives of Stanford students and married women students are invieed.

Study Abroad Eyed

Parents and students of Menlo-Atherton High School will meet Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 8 p.m. in J building to discuss opporities for youth to travel and study abroad, with emphasis on economy.

The following speakers will lead the panel discussion: Malcolm Maxwell, faculty member Foothills College, "Charter Flights to Europe"; Ernest Pope, faculty member Cubberley High School, "Youth Hosteling"; Dr. Gayle Engle, caculty member Foothills College, "A Guided Study Tour of Europe"; representative of Oakland YMCA, "International Friendship Tours"; Peter McGettigan, M-A High School junior, "A Self-guided, Self-financed European Tour," and Peggy Katonah, M-A High School sophomore, "Summer School in Switzerland."

Special guests for the eveing will be all of the foreign students at M-A High School this year.

CHRYSANTHEMUM TEA . . . as it will be held on Nov. 9 starting at 1:30 p.m. at Tressider Union is the subject for discussion between Jane Penfield, a Stanford University co-ed, Mrs. Louis S. Penfield, member of the sponsoring Mothers' Club, and Mrs. Daksha Hutheesing, one of the foreign students who will act as a tour guide for guests. The tea, this year, marks the opening of Homecoming Week at Stanford.

NICOLA SEVERANCE AND ROGER MACKENZIE

Scouts Show Styles

Troop 30 is planning a fashion show and dessert tea for Friday, Nov. 2.

Originally planned to be held in a home, the demand for tickets was so great that the girls changed the location to the multi-purpose room at Laurel School in Atherton. A wide range of children's clothes will be modeled by the Scouts.

Plans for the show are being arranged by the troop's three leaders, Mrs. Charles Taylor, Mrs. Arthur Sargent and Mrs. John Lotspiech, who will be doing the commentating. Mrs. Melvin Bennington will be arranging the music for the affair. Refreshment chaoirman is Mrs. James Lang.

Girl Scout hostesses helping to hand out programs and serving desserts are Belinda Beckeett, Nancy Canvin, Priscilla Lang, Rickey Scohenberger and Nan Taylor. Nineteen scouts will be modeling. They are Debbie Adams, Hilary Armstrong, Laura Bennington, Jane Crawford, Ginny Downing, Karen Foster, Minor Kelley, Marilyn Lotspiech, Andy Manson, Janice Miller, Debbie Sargent, Debra Schuchard, Joan Schwartz, Ann Shallenberger, Pam Silver, Pam Singleton, Janet Taylor, Jeanne Toscano and Margo Weaver, all fifth graders from Laurel and Encinal schools.

February Wedding Planned:

Nicola Severance Is Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Severance of Atherton yesterday announced the engagement of their daughter, Nicola Severance, to Roger Duncan Mackenzie of San Francisco.

Roger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mackenzie of San Francisco. Now serving in the U.S. Coast Guard, he did his preparatory work at Phillips Andover. He is a graduate of Stanford University where he was affiliated with Beta Theta Pi, serving the fraternity as house president during his year of undergraduate membership.

Nickie attended Le Grand Verger in Lausanne, Switzerland ,and was graduated from Castilleja School in Palo Alto. She is now a senior at the University of California where she is president of Pi Beta Phi and a member of Cal Club. She will graduate in February. She has one brother, Stephen, who is in his last year at the Graduate School of Business at the University of Chicago.

Her grandparents are Mrs. Roy H. Severance of Menlo Park and the late Dr. Severance, as well at the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Davidson of Palo Alto.

The future bridegroom has two younger brothers, Willliam Strange "Sandy" Mackenzie and Robert Colin Mackenzie.

His grandparents are Mrs. Vivian Peabody Strange of Palo Alto and the late Vivian Peabody Strange. The late Mr. and Mrs. George Law Mackenzie of Palo Alto were his paternal grandparents.

Nickie and Roger plan to be married early in February.

Travel Fan Speaks at Little House

Rod Pulley will speak at Little House, 800 Middle Ave., Menlo Park today at 2 p.m. He will tell of his trip by Land Rover, a British made car on the order of a jeep,from Caracas, Venezuela, to Los Angeles.

Pulley, 25, had been living in Caracas for more than a year while serving as assistant director of ACCION, the "Private Peace Corps" supported by business concerns, foundations and individuals. He decided the six-weeks trip, considered impossible by all he consulted, would be an interesting journey and would contribute much to his knowledge of Central America. He recruited his brother, Mark, a June graduate of Los Altos High School, and together they set out.

Pulley, 715 Berry Ave., Los Altos, is an international relations major at San Jose State College. The public is cordially invited to attend this program, free of charge.

A house tour, Mid-Peninsula style, reflects a heartening and solid fact in today's world of rubber stamps and stereotypes. It is still possible for a home to reflect the face of its owner. In the case of the homes to be shown at the Nov. 16 Smith Vassar House Tour, "Art for Country Living," each house reflects an interest, a hobby, an avocation or simply a way of life. In no case, does the touree have the feeling that the occupants have bent to fit a current trend in interior decorating.

Sponsors of the show have added an appealing finishing touch to careful planning. The Friday tour is from 11 a. m. until 9 p. m. so that husbands may attend. And one of the houses contains a collection of trophies from big game hunts that would persuade even a very weary husband out for the evening. This is the Schlesinger home at 1 Ridgeview Drive, Atherton, where Albert Schlesinger houses mounted trophies and other artifacts collected both in Africa and the Arctic.

A Welcoming House is a Home

Smith and Vassar Club members have plunged into preparations for the house tour and art sale scheduled for Nov. 16.

Four Atherton homes, open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m., will serve as settings for the paintings and sculptures of scores of San Francisco and Peninsula artists. Proceeds from the benefit will augment the scholarship funds of both clubs.

Those interested in attending the tour may obtain tickets from the Peninsula Box Office, from Mrs. William Campbell of Woodside, UL 1-7235, and from Mrs. Donald Clough of Woodside, EM 8-0859. A map to the homes appears on the ticket.

Chairman of the benefit is Mrs. Peter A. Wallace of Atherton. In charge of houses is Mrs. Herbert W. Richards and Mrs. Russel Downey. Mrs. Kenneth Castonguay is head of the art sale. Publicity is being directed by Mrs. Miles Benedict and Mrs. Jorge Heller.

Staffing the houses is the job of Mrs. W. Bliss Carnochan, Mrs. Robert E. Barney and Mrs. Bradley Breyman. House coordinators are Mrs. Walter C. Straub, Mrs. James Landreth, Mrs. Edmund Becker and Mrs. S. T. Couch. In charge of sales are Mrs. John W. Dodds, Mrs. Grant Rigby, Mrs. Ernest L. Molloy, Mrs. James Vaughn, Mrs. Roy E. Demmon, Mrs. E. A. Seipp, Mrs. J. M. Ochoa and Mrs. Richard Scowcroft.

Other committees and their chairmen are: Artist contact, Mrs. Sheldon C. Woodward and Mrs. Thomas W. Ford; catalogue, Mrs. A. Reid Chappell; insurance, Mrs. Edward E. Eyre Jr.; hospitality, Mrs. Donald Soule; pickup, Mrs. Robert O. Spencer; raffle, Mrs. R. S. Stewart and Mrs. R. S. Cannell; screening and hanging, Mrs. Peter Shoup and Mrs. Donald Kennedy; silent auction, Mrs. Thomas C. Sewell; taxes, Mrs. William J. Gleckler; telephone, Mrs. James Hill.

ART GALLERY . . .
. . . is the hallway connecting the living room with a family room that was at one time a little theater. Paintings will be hung at the Robert E. Wertheimer home which is contemporary in feeling and in its use of color. Amy Wertheimer against the background of contemporary paintings looks as if she might have stepped from another era during which she was a Gainsborough subject.

PREVIEW LOOK . . .
. . . Touring the French Farmhouse style home of Mrs. Averill Crimmins will give visitors a glimpse of a comfortable traditional house set amidst a well-established garden. The Venetian mirror hangs in the Crimmins dining room and is set off by French china and mural wallpaper.

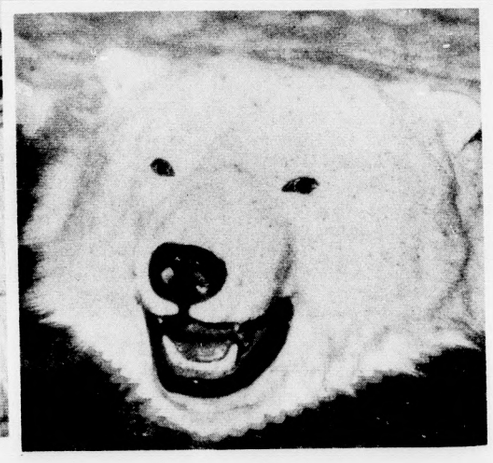

YELLOWS AND GOLDS . .
. . . make the living room in the Leland A. Doan home in Atherton a happy combination of warmth and promised hospitality. Mimi, pleased that the colors background her ebony coat so well, strikes a comfortable pose. At right, Mrs. Peter Wallace descends the staircase of the Doan home. As chairman of the Smith Vassar tour she has both directed selection of the homes and arranged that alumnae hostesses will be on hand to answer questions on tour day.

GAME ROOM . . .
. . . at the Albert E. Schlesinger residence in Atherton has a double meaning. It is indeed set up for sedentary games like bridge or chess; it is decorated with magnificent samples of game trophies as collected by Albert Schlesinger. The bar is an authentic grass shack from Africa and the bear a very authentic polar sort brought back from a recent trip to Norway.

Three M-A Students are National Merit Finalists

By ROBIN HILL

National Merit finalists from Menlo-Atherton are Phil Blackmarr, Keith Brown and Millard Moulthrop. Semi-finalists were selected on the basis of the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last spring and on the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board this fall.

The three receiving finalist awards are in the top one per cent of the nation, ten other students who received Letters of Commendation are in the top two per cent.

Those who earned Letters of Commendation were Peter Benjaminson, John Brigham, Edward Christie, Mike Conaway, Fred Keast, Dick Lambert, Storm Lawrence, Greil Marcus, Sandra Oddstad and Jill Tuffli.

Approximately ten per cent of the finalists will receive Merit Scholarships ranging from $400 to $6000. The funds are provided by business sponsors with continuing help from the Ford Foundation.

Slides, concepts of creation and a report of scientific development were all a part of an astronomy lecture given by Dr. Baum of Mt. Palomar Observatory.

Students from Woodside, Ravenswood and Menlo-Atherton attended the lecture in M-A's J building.

Among the theories which Dr. Baum discussed were two non-religious concepts of the creation of earth. The first being a continuous beginning having several explosions building on one another. The second concept was that of an already existing earth.

On Oct. 10 and 17 ,two legislative council meetings were held in Q-1.

During the first meeting, Carol Heydt, Commissioner of Girls' Athletics, presented her proposal for the formation of a Girls' Athletic Board which the council approved. An amendment was also approved which states that a defendant of student court shall be served his summons on the day preceding his trial. An amendment stating that a club wanting to be recognized by the school must first obtain a sponsor and the approval of the administration before applying to the council was passed.

The second meeting convened exactly one week later. The first business on the agenda was the swearing in of the newly-elected freshman representatives. Treasurer Cullen Coates then made a request that council members take a survey in social studies classes about the lack of student body card sales and what students recommend to solve this problem.

A request for $1.25 for the purchasing of a hall banner in recognition to the newly-elected freshman officers was made and approved.

Society Plans Trip to SF

Women's Mission Society of Atherton Hills Baptist Church of Menlo Park will hold their regular meeting on Nov. 6 at 8 p.m. at which time they will make a trip to the Seaman's Mission in San Francisco.

Highlight of the evening will be their presentation of a basket of Christmas gifts to the mission.

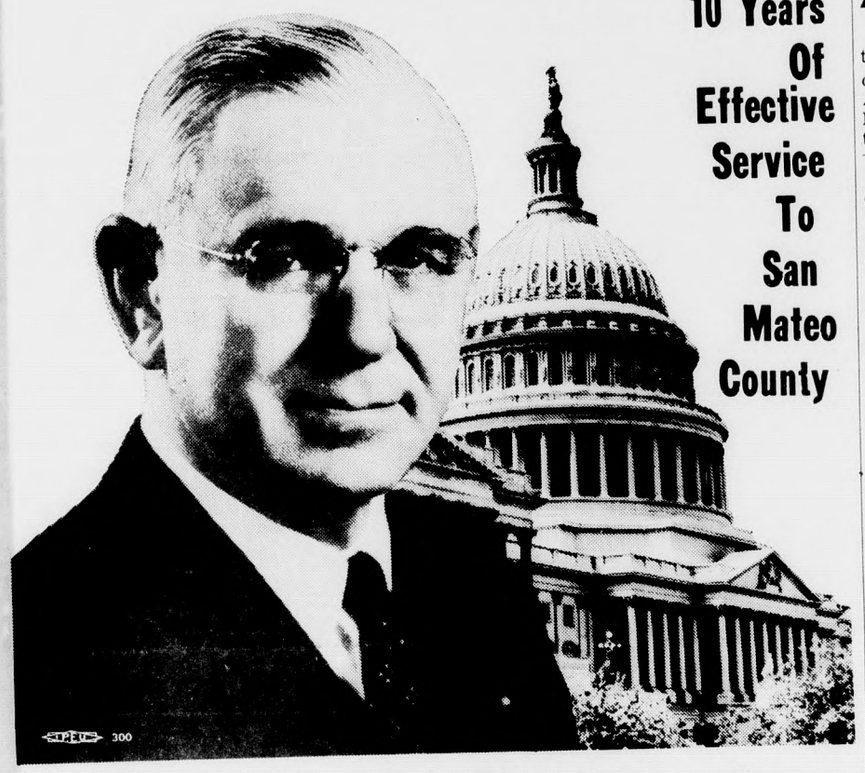

Reverend Olsen will be the speaker for the evening.

DECK THE HALL . . . . . . as a matter of fact, it's the Castilleja School gymnasium that Mrs. Teller Weinmann (at left), chairman of project committee, Mrs. J. Gordon Knapp and Mrs. William Gillies are setting up. The occasion is the annual holiday table setting to be given this year on Nov. 13 from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Happy Holiday is the show theme as sponsored by the Mothers' Club.

Mothers Set Tables

Annual Holiday Table Setting given by the Mother's Club of Castilleja School in Palo Alto, will be held Tuesday, Nov. 13, from 1 to 5 o'clock in the gymnasium of the school at 1310 Bryant St.

Mrs. Teller Weinmann of Atherton is the chairman of the benefit for the school building fund, and she is being assisted by Mrs. J. Gordon Knapp, Mrs. Alden Ames, Mrs. William Gillies and Mrs. William S. Romano.

Mrs. Guido Gasivodo is in charge of the tickets and invites the public to enjoy 50 varied table settings, all following the theme of "Happy Holidays."

In addition to the table settings, each class will decorate a table sized tree. Additional decorations will follow the winter holiday theme.

Cosmopolitans Schedule Meeting

Regular monthly meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club was held Wednesday in room D at Palo Alto Community Center. Malcolm Dudley of Dean Witter & Company, Palo Alto discussed "Investments for the Housewife."

On Nov. 7, members will leave at 9:45 a.m. by bus from Stanford Shopping Center to attend the television show of Tennessee Ernie Ford. Tickets for the ride and luncheon may be obtained from Mrs. George Klee.

Charm CHIT CHAT

A change may be in order! Just because you have always worn a certain shade of rouge or lipstick is no reason that you should keep on using it.

Your skin may have altered its color tones . . . especially if you have had recent health problems. Your usual rouge may make you look unbecomingly sallow, or may present the unattractive contrast of scarlet on ghastly white. If your once-red hair is now a lovely grey, don't wear those orange tones that were so becoming. Experiment for something more flattering to your new coloring. Many women over forty should avoid make-up in yellowed tones, as it no longer does the right things for them. If you are having fun wearing your hair in new fantasy shades, be sure to select new cosmetics to harmonize.

DROP IN and get the information about our special course for girls and women who want to follow the beauty profession. It's a growing field that needs YOU. Start soon!

Stage Fashion Show:

Castilleja Girls Announce Fair

One of the highlights of the fall season in Palo Alto is the annual fair presented by Castilleja School students.

This year's fair, to be held on Nov. 3 from 7:30 to 11 p.m., promises to be one of the most entertaining.

Traditionally, the stage and fashion shows are the highlights of this annual event. Joseph Magnin, Stanford, will provide a full array of winter apparel to be modeled by Castillejans Gay Leigh Glenn, Barbara Gros, Jennie Taano, Ann Dey, Launa Webb, Vicki Bates, Sandy Saviers, Candy Gilpatrick, Barbara Scarborough, Barbara Crofoot, Sandy Ernman, Diane Trombetta, Caroline Walton, Barrie Ramsay, and Patricia Ireland. Betsy Sellman is coordinator of the fashion show, and the commentator is Jeryl Wilder.

The stage show, based this year on "Television Land" is entitled "Cherchez La Femme," and will feature Castilleja's foreign exchange student, Monika Barth, from Germany.

Each class is responsible for a portion of the entire fair. Freshman class members are working diligently on a plan to provide unusual and delicious refreshments; the sophomore class will decorate and man the booths and are in charge of door prizes which have been generously donated by the merchants of Palo Alto. Juniors are coordinating the stage show and seniors provide the theme for the fair, the fashion models and the general management of the entire event.

Proceeds from this event will be used to benefit the Children's Health Council of the Mid-Peninsula and the Stanford Convalescent Home. Tickets may be obtained from Castilleja students and at the door.

AAUW Tours Decorator Show Nov. 5

A trip to the eleventh annual Holiday Decoratians Program in Oakland is offered to members of the Menlo-Atherton branch of the American Association of University Women and their guests on Tuesday, Nov. 7.

Admission to the exhibit is free. Bus fare is $2 and the bus will leave propmtly at 9:30 a.m. from Burgess gym, Menlo Park, and will return there at about 2:30 p.m.

Bus tickets must be purchased before Nov. 5. Checks should eb mailed to Mrs. John Burton, 1921 Camino de los Robles, Menlo Park. For further information Mrs. Burton may be reached at DA 2-5856.

Rue de la PAA Staged Nov. 3

Shop for "instant cartoons" and have your picture taken with the darling of the champagne set — Mademoiselle Champagne — but don't show it to your wife!

These are just a few of the festivities which will highlight the 1962 Peninsula Art Association's benefit for the building fund, "A Night on the Left Bank," at the association's headquarters, the Fiesta building, Nov. 3 from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Richard Stephens, well-known Bay Area artist, is one of a team of artistic Merlins who will limn their mural magic along the Rue de la PAA.

Dancing to the music of Walt Tolleson's orchestra — arrayed in Parisian garb and full of fun and frolic — will add a further dimension to the evening

Speaking of dimensions, ardent devotees of the "danse" will be delighted by the spacious dance pavilion — 30 by 30 feet — at one end of the Rue de la PAA.

Sponsors of the event include Dr. and Mrs. Hartzell Ray, Hillsborough; Mr. and Mrs. A. Earle Holt, Hillsborough; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sinton, Hillsborough; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Puccinelli, Redwood City; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Fitzgerald, Burlingame; Mr. and Mrs. Alec Stern, San Mateo; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Whittlesey, Hillsborough and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Russell, Woodside.

Records Give Election Spiel

Mrs. John C. Boggs will hostess a Coffee for Max Rafferty today at 11 a.m. in her Selby Lane home in Atherton.

In a series of such coffees, hostesses have contacted literally thousands of voters to hear campaign speeches by Rafferty who is running for superintendent of public instruction

KKGs Sponsor Play

The Woodside home of Mrs. Clyde Kivell will be the setting for the Nov. 7 luncheon meeting of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae Association.

Ralph Schram, supervising director of the Palo Alto Community Theater, will be the guest speaker. His talk will be designed to thoroughly acquaint the Kappas with the background and theme of the Community Players' forthcoming musical production, "Finian's Rainbow." The alumnae group will follow the precedent set last year when it sponsored a performance of "The King and I" by this season sponsoring the Dec. 11 performance of "Rainbow."

All proceeds realized from the evening's entertainment will go directly to the Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae Association's local rehabilitation projects which are carried out in cooperation with the Palo Alto-Stanford Rehabilitation Center.

Mrs. Robert Schulz, luncheon chairman for the occasion, will be assisted by Mrs. Roy Alverson, Mrs. Homer Gaont of Atherton, Mrs. Kenneth White and Mrs. Allen Barber.

Mary-Martha Guild Sets Rummage

Mary Martha Guild of Bethany Lutheran Church will have a fall rummage sale Thursday, Nov. 8, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday, Nov. 9, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The sale will be held at the parish hall located at Avy and Cloud avenues in Menlo Park.

Plants, furniture, jewelry, clothing and china wil lbe featured.

Those wishing to donate articles may contact Mrs. Alfred Hardt, DA 5-9549.

Toy Man Speaks for KKG Alums

Mrs. Ted Barger, 120 Escanya Way, Menlo Park, will act as hostess for the Nov. 6 meeting of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Junior Alumnae group.

Co-hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Karl Muench and Mrs. Mark Davis of Menlo Park. Those planning to attend are asked to call Mrs. Ted Barger at DA 3-9295.
